Crown Prince Requests Permission to Return to Fatherland

PARIS, Oct. 25.—(4:30 p. m.)—German Communists and Nationalists at noon today opened fire on the prefecture of police at Wiesbaden, in which French soldiers were quartered, according to a dispatch to the Temps.

The attack was immediately repulsed.

This is the first instance of the Germans having attacked troops of the army of occupation since the present revolt in Germany started.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The former German crown prince has urgently requested that he be allowed to return to Germany, it was learned today.

After vigorous correspondence between the prince and Chancellor Stresemann, the chancellor laid the matter before one of the recent numerous sittings of the cabinet for a decision.

Socialists are considerably embarrassed by the appeal and no decision has been reached yet.

Some members of the cabinet admit, however, they cannot advance any especially good reason why the prince should not return.

The Dutch government has agreed to the prince's request to leave Holland, it was understood, on condition he will not ask to return to his refuge in Wieringen.

In his new application, the crown prince, as he still is called by most Germans said he would enter Germany quietly by motor car, avoiding any ovations.

In addition, the prince said in substance:

"In these trying times, as a loyal German, I want to be in my home country to participate in the reconstruction of the fatherland."

The flying visit of Chancellor Stresemann, Minister of the Interior, to the German frontier, was in connection with the federal government's plan to create an autonomous Rhineland state within the German confederation, it was learned today.

It was reported the chancellor would probably deliver a speech on the subject if negotiations proceeded satisfactorily.

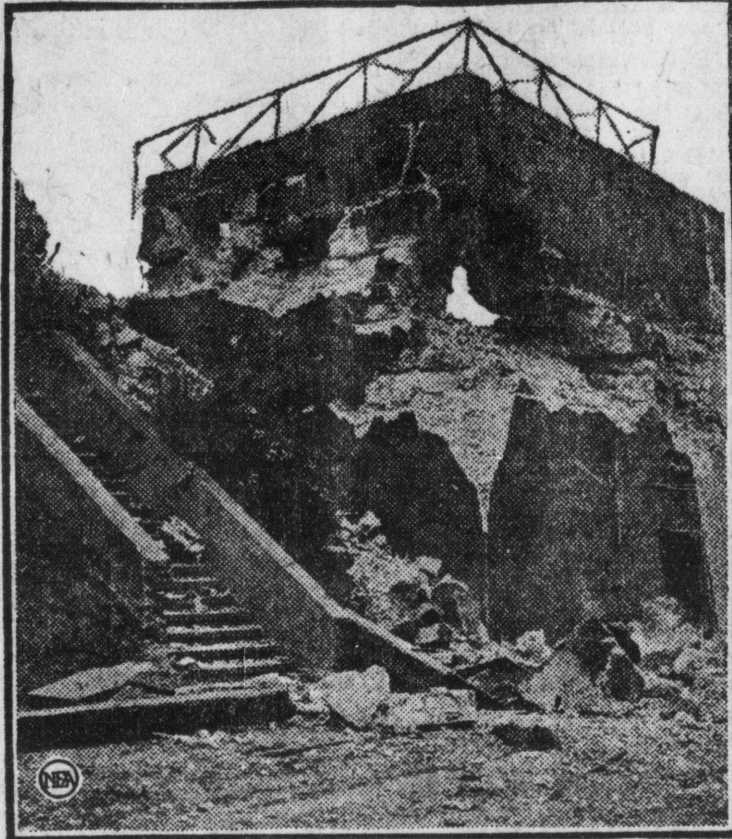

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Belgian soldiers have intervened in favor of the Separatists fighting for possession of Aix la Chapelle, a Central News dispatch said.

The fighting began when Separatists attempted to re-take the positions in the vicinity from which they were driven in two days' fighting by police and mobs of citizens loyal to the German reich. Five police and two Separatists were killed in the fighting.

U. S. OFFERS AID TO EUROPEANS IN REPARATIONS ROW

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary of State Hughes has dispatched a note to the British government with reference to the reparations problem, it was learned today from a source usually reliable.

Among other statements, the note is understood to make these points:

1.—That the United States regards the European situation as most grave.

2.—That it is imperative that some practicable plan be put into effect immediately to solve the reparations problem.

3.—That the United States government stands ready to aid in such a settlement in any possible, practical way.

The note, it is understood, stated that in the opinion of this government the reparations controversy is at the bottom of the whole trouble in Europe today and that it must be eliminated before Europe can go forward to recuperation.

As yet, it is not known definitely whether any actual detailed step is proposed by the American government for a reparations settlement.

However, it is understood, that the communication gives a complete exposition of the American attitude toward the European crisis and makes known definitely the willingness and readiness of this country to aid in a settlement.

The step comes simultaneously with the arrival in Washington of Lloyd-George, who is seeking co-operation of the United States in the settlement of Europe's ills.

The note will be published in the press of the United States tomorrow morning.

The original Hughes proposal, nearly a year ago, for the creation of an international commission of financial experts to study the question of how much reparations Germany can pay, was killed by the opposition of France.

SHOW DECREASE IN GINNING OF COTTON

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Cotton of the 1923 crop ginned to October 18, totaled 6,406,579 running bales, including 17,994 round bales counted as half bales, the census bureau reported today.

Last year 6,978,321 bales, including 124,869 round half bales, were ginned in the corresponding period.

It may be stated with confidence that the outlook is good."

San Diego Flyers Hop Off on Canada to Mexico Non-Stop Trip

(By United Press Leased Wire) EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 25.—Traveling at the rate of a mile a minute, an army airplane piloted by Captain Lowell Smith and Lieut. John T. Richter was refueled in the air above Eugene this morning.

The plane was refueled here by a second army plane piloted by Lieutenants E. W. Seifert and Virgil Hine, who arrived last night to take charge of the arrangements for the refueling.

The re-fueling plane took to the air and met the racing plane above Irving, Oregon, at 10:02, and by the time the northwestern part of Eugene was reached, at 10:07, the refueling had been completed and the planes broke contact.

With the tank refilled with gasoline, the speeding airplane, which left the Canadian border early today, hoping to make a non-stop flight from Canada to Mexico, continued on south, its engine purring steadily and maintaining the schedule laid out for it.

This aircraft will be again refueled at Sacramento, some time this afternoon and is expected to reach the Mexican border late today.

SEATTLE, Oct. 25.—Captain Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. John P. Richter, U. S. A., hopped off from Sumas, Wash., at 6:26 a. m. today in a De Havilland airplane in an attempt to establish a non-stop flight record from the Canadian border to the Mexican line.

The plane is the same machine in which they established their non-stop flight record of over 37 hours at San Diego a short time ago.

Will Cover 1700 Miles.

The fliers, who are following the recently opened Pacific highway, will travel approximately 1700 miles.

The non-stop plane carried, when it started from Sumas, 174 gallons of gasoline and 30 gallons of oil. They expect to take on at each refueling station 100 gallons of gasoline. The oil, it was believed, will be sufficient to last the entire trip.

When Tia Juana is reached, Captain Smith and Lieut. Richter expect to put back to Rockwell Field, San Diego.

OPPOSITION OF KLAN CAUSE OF CLASH

Legislators Resent Charge Secret Order Back of Fight on Walton

(By United Press Leased Wire) OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 25.—A fist fight in the house of representatives today interrupted impeachment proceedings against Governor J. C. Walton.

J. P. Callahan, speaking against approval of the charge against Walton, declared:

"Dragon Jewett of the Ku Klux Klan is dictating the action of this legislature."

Cries of "liar" arose from various parts of the house. A dozen representatives rushed upon Callahan.

Several blows were struck before "neutral" legislators could lead Callahan from the room, his clothing torn and disarranged.

Both J. C. Walton and M. E. Trapp, today claimed the right to exercise the power of governor of Oklahoma.

With the justice of their claims involved in a legal tangle, there appeared little hope of obtaining a definite understanding until all issues are decided by court.

Walton, who was suspended by the state senate following starting of impeachment proceedings, was governor by right of possession of the chief executive's office and by an injunction preventing Trapp from assuming duties of the office.

Walton, closely surrounded by his body guard of gunmen, occupied the executive offices.

Trapp was declared acting governor by the senate at the time Walton was ousted. On his behalf, Attorney General George Short obtained a writ of prohibition which superseded the injunction obtained by Walton and prohibited holding a hearing scheduled for 9:30 a. m. in making the restraining order permanent.

The supreme court was to meet at 1:30 p. m. when the legal technicalities were expected to be ironed out.

EBELL FUND DRIVE HERE IS DEFERRED

With other drives now in progress in the city, the building and ways and means committee of the Ebell club, at a meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. O. M. Robbins, chairman of the building committee, decided not to attempt at this time a general public drive for funds needed to complete the club's building program.

Mrs. Robbins stated today, however, that the drive committees would continue solicitation among members of the club for further contributions.

Pointing out that auditorium work authorized in the present contract is costing $1700, the building chairman said that an even $2300 is needed to complete the fund required before a loan of $20,000 is made.

"We cannot raise this sum among our own members," continued Mrs. Robbins. "Therefore, we will have to go to the public for help."

STOCKTON, Calif., Oct. 25.—Pitiless publicity for the identity and methods of those who transgress the prohibition law, both state and national, and thorough organization by dry forces to block repeal of the Wright act, will form the basis for "dry" promotion work during the coming year, speakers before the state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union predicted today.

In a series of addresses and committee reports, the organization's plans for combatting efforts of wet forces to have the state prohibition act repealed were laid before the third day's session of the convention.

The principal address, entitled "A Survey of the 1924 Battle Lines," was delivered this afternoon by Assemblyman T. M. Wright, author of

DELAY IN TAX STATEMENTS EXPLAINED

Shortage of help in his office and in the post office here is responsible for delay by taxpayers in receiving their tax bills, according to a declaration made here today by J. C. Lamb, county tax collector.

Pointing out that the number of tax bills had increased 33 1/3 per cent and business of the office 50 per cent in the past year, Lamb said that the first delivery of tax bills was made to the post office on Wednesday of last week with the final installment going to the post office Saturday.

The last of the tax bills were passing out of the post office today, he said.

"This will explain to many taxpayers the reason they have not received their tax statements," said Lamb.

The tax collector said that 40,000 statements were made out this year, as against approximately 30,000 last year. He said the big increase in the general business of the office was due in a measure to the large number of transfers of property made in the past year.

"Our shortage of help is due to a recent decision of the supreme court, holding that a county officer could not increase his expenses during the term of office, employing additional help being interpreted as an increase in salary," said Lamb. "It is a sad situation, for a progressive and growing county like Orange."

"We are doing the best we can under the circumstances, and taxpayers must be patient. They should not blame me or the post office, they should hold their breath against laws that make possible the situation that has developed."

Lamb again pointed out that taxpayers could materially assist in expediting the work of his office by being brief in their statements and having necessary data at hand when they call at the office to pay their taxes.

"A taxpayer coming to the office without his tax bill should have a full description of his property," continued Lamb. "Presentation of a deed, in lieu of a tax bill, would greatly facilitate search in the office for a tax statement. House numbers in a city mean nothing to the tax collector—they do not represent property."

SEEK BODY OF MISSING MAN ON BEACH

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN DIEGO, Oct. 25.—Authorities today were combing the beach near Ensenada, seeking new clues in the case of George E. Schick, missing San Diego broker, following positive identification of E. Drew Clark and his wife last yesterday by Frank Moore of Los Angeles as the couple he had seen digging in the sand near Ensenada last February.

Clark and his wife and Mrs. Schick are all held on charges of forging a power of attorney to get control of Schick's affairs. Mrs. Schick has confessed involving the others.

Moore came to San Diego last yesterday at the request of Sheriff Byers and was taken at once to the cells of the mystic and his wife. His recognition of each was instant.

Moore told authorities he believed he could find the spot where he had seen Clark digging, and under his guidance two cars bearing sheriff's officers and detectives left for the Lower California city early this morning.

KNIFE MAN AMUCK ON TRAIN

Harvey V. Perry Seriously Cut By Mexican at Thatcher, Colorado

FIEND BEATEN TO DEATH WITH BAR

14 Passengers Wounded Before Passenger Fells Mad Man

(By United Press Leased Wire) LAJUNTA, Colo., Oct. 25.—A mad man, slashing and hacking at passengers in a Santa Fe coach near Thatcher last night, wounded fourteen persons, three seriously, before being beaten to death by passengers.

Teleforo Candelaria, a Mexican, jumped from his seat without warning, waving an open pocket knife, and leaped upon Conductor Deubler, stabbed him, and slashed his way to the end of the car.

Several shots were fired at Candelaria. Two took effect, but it was an iron coupling bar wielded by a passenger which ended his murderous orgy by breaking his neck.

Women and children were slashed as the screaming maniac blindly continued his rush. The car was turned into a bedlam. A negro porter fired two shots at the Mexican, stopping him only momentarily with two bullets in the body. A kick from a passenger that broke his jaw also was ineffectual.

An unknown passenger felled Candelaria with a coupling bar and after a breathless bout broke his neck with a second blow.

Seriously injured: James Barnes, Rushville, Nebr., passenger, stabbed in the chest; L. C. Deubler, conductor, stabbed from behind beneath the collarbone.

Otis Murray, Albuquerque, N. M., Santa Fe station employee, slashed in hand, arm and leg.

Harvey V. Perry, Santa Ana, California, stabbed in shoulder, slashed upon face.

Candelaria boarded Santa Fe No. 7 southbound at La Junta. He held a ticket to Los Angeles. His seat was in a chair car.

A child five years old stumbled into the aisle almost at the feet of the maniac. Seeing his precarious position, the boy raised his hands in prayer. For a moment the bloody knife was poised above him, then the Mexican said: "I'm not killing children," stepped over the lad and plunged his weapon into the arm of another passenger.

A letter found on Candelaria's body by the Trinidad coroner indicated that he had formerly been an inmate of the Patterson Sanitarium, Monrovia, Calif.

$14,500 RAISED FOR SALVATIONISTS HERE

With fourteen thousand five hundred dollars pledged at noon today in the $23,000 Salvation Army building campaign, F. C. Blauer, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that the respective teams will devote the entire day tomorrow to rounding up and calling on those whose names appear on the cards prepared by the members of the building fund executive committee.

According to F. C. Blauer, chairman of the ways and means committee, the seventy workers who took the field early today met with the greatest success in making their rounds.

"The drive is going over in tip-top shape," Blauer said, "and although we will probably not finish the campaign until tomorrow, we have every reason to feel encouraged with the showing made thus far."

"In addressing the respective workers, Ensign Kranz, General Manager Lucas and other have stressed the importance of seeing personally all those whose names have been handed them. It is simply a matter of getting around to all of them."

Final reports, it was explained, probably will be made at a dinner to be given here tomorrow night.

Mark Twain in his early days worked on a Missouri newspaper. A superstitious subscriber wrote in, saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asked whether that was a sign of good or bad luck. The humorist wrote this answer and printed it:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

'Blues' Beat 'Reds' In Hot Competition For Chamber Drive

UPPER: W. H. Spurgeon Jr., major of the "Red" division of the Chamber of Commerce membership and fund drive workers. LOWER: W. D. Rudd, commander of the "Blues" in the campaign.

The status of the Chamber of Commerce membership and service fund drive was reported at today's meeting of the Lions' club at St. Ann's Inn as follows: New members received today, 71; total members procured in drive, 213; service fund pledges today, $2538; total in drive $8854; points made by "Red" division, 56264; by "Blue" division, 5178; total cash collections from memberships $2777.75; highest individual point winner today, William McKay.

With the "Blue" Division holding a victory over the "Reds" in the second day of the Chamber of Commerce membership and service fund drive, competition between the two divisions has exceeded the expectations of S. P. Morris, who has charge of the drive, he indicated today.

"The workers are taking an interest in the drive for new members and funds for the Chamber of Commerce that means but one thing—the drive will be a success," Morris declared.

"The secret of this enthusiasm is the fact that every team worker is thoroughly 'sold' on the idea that Santa Ana is the greatest community in the Southland, and that the Chamber of Commerce fills a place in the community that can not be taken by any organization. It co-ordinates the efforts of all citizens into one combined effort to make this city absolutely the best place in California in which to live."

"Every team worker is exerting every effort to put the drive over successfully—not because of any personal gain, but because each worker has the welfare of the community at heart. He feels that through assisting in this campaign he is doing his share in the up-building of the community."

FAVOR IS GIVEN TO COMMUNITY CHEST MOVE

The suggestion in an editorial in yesterday's Register that the Community Chest plan of raising funds for public purposes is well worth considering by Santa Ana, today had met with much voluntary commendation. The feature of the plan that seems to meet with most approval is that the tremendous amount of work required to raise, at different times throughout the year, a half dozen or more large funds, for as many different purposes, could be minimized by adopting the Community Chest plan.

"For instance," said former Mayor Mitchell, "the work now being done by the Chamber of Commerce organization to increase its membership and provide a service fund, would be sufficient, under the Community Chest plan, to raise all the funds required for all purposes during the entire year."

Attorney S. M. Davis and J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, not only were pleased with the idea as effecting a saving of time and energy, but they also particularly liked that feature of the Community Chest plan which enables the community to determine what activities it desires to support and to what extent each really deserves and needs support.

OPENS DRIVE ON HUNTERS FOR VIOLATIONS

Marking a drive by the state fish and game commission, in cooperation with county fish and game authorities, to stamp out the practice of "early shooting" by hunters in this county, a squad of deputy commissioners were on the job here today. With County
Game Warden W. E. Adkinson
they had made six arrests.

O. D. Lowe and Roy Rodgers, both of Long Beach, each were fined $25 by Justice J. B. Cox, following their arrest early yesterday near Anaheim Landing by Adkinson, on a charge of shooting before the hour allowed by law, which is a half-hour before sunrise.

J. R. Jones, Long Beach, is facing a similar charge. A. E. Mc-Dowell and H. W. Amys, both of Huntington Park, were arrested on a charge of shooting shore birds, and George Amarm was placed under arrest for hunting without a license.

The officers made their first drive on the early hunters yesterday morning in the vicinity of the West Gun club, where a bell each morning tolls of the hour when shooting may legally begin.

Adkinson happened upon the first alleged violators of the law, an unusual circumstance in such cases, he said. He was near the point where Lowe and Rodgers were said to have started their bombardment of ducks.

An error in the tolling of the bell, which gave the signal ten minutes too early, halted the work of the officers yesterday, or more complaints would have been filed.

Besides the six arrests made, five other hunters who were found without licenses and who claimed to have left them at home, were cited to produce the licenses
as soon as possible, under penalty of prosecution if they failed.

Outside officers sent to aid in the drive were Deputy Commissioners A. H. Willard, Rocklin, Raymond C. O'Connor, Grass Valley; Walter Emerick, Ventura;
W. C. Malone, San Bernardino; J.
H. Gyger, Riverside, and O. P.
Brownlow, Porterville.

Quiet Wedding at St. Ann's Church

St. Ann's church was last night the scene of a quietly impressive wedding at 7 o'clock when the Rev. Father J. J. Shafer read the marriage service for Miss Helen Einhaus of Quincy, Ill., and William H. Nowlin of Company 158, C. A. C., stationed at San Pedro.

Miss Einhaus, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Einhaus of Quincy, arrived Monday at the home of her friend of girlhood days, Mrs. Tony Barrios, 810 South Main street, where she was joined yesterday afternoon by her fiancé.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrios were the sole attendants at the wedding for which the bride was gowned in blue crepe de chine and carried a cluster of bride's roses and maid-of-honor fern.

Returning to the Barrios home, the little party of four was joined by a few friends for the enjoyment of a delectable five-course wedding dinner with covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. Barrios, Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin, honoree, Mr. and Mrs. John Lopez, Mrs. G. H. Rice, Mrs. Roy Nelson and Clyde Lackey.

The table was charming with all appointments arranged to harmonize with the yellow chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin will make their home in San Pedro where the former is stationed and where he has a pleasant place all in readiness for his bride.

Young Ladies Sodality

The Young Ladies' Sodality, to be entertained by the Misses Anna Young and Frances Hillman at the home of the former on Fairhaven avenue, this evening, announces that those wishing to go will meet at the Liebermann home at 7:30 o'clock sharp, and will leave from there in cars.

A special invitation is extended to all married members of the Y. L. L. and all young unmarried ladies of the St. Joseph's Parish and St. Anne's Parish.

Moose Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Loyal Order of Moose met recently at the Moose Hall and instituted the Legion degree. Mrs. Roy Butler was elected president, Mrs. Louis J. Elwood, secretary, Mrs. F. W. Bowe, treasurer.

Regular meetings will be held every Tuesday evening at the Moose Auxiliary hall. Refreshments were served and interesting reports read from the district supervisor, Frank McBrown.

Many plans were made for active work as the legion has charge of the Home for Aged at Moosheaven, Jacksonville, Florida.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Members of the committee on the Calumpit auxiliary float for Armistice day parade at Orange, is requested to meet with Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Botkin, 616 East First street, Friday evening, Oct. 26, at 7:30 o'clock. Each is instructed to bring scissors.

Missionary Society

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Spurgeon Memorial church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. B. Wardlow, 942 West Bishop street.

Daughters of Veterans

Members of Sarah A. Rounds Tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, are reminded of the pleasant social tea scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Florence Hawkinson, 412 West Second street.

Nurses Make Merry At Weird Party

Forty nurses forgot human ills on Tuesday evening and taking on ghostly form hid away to the Liebermann home at 612 French street, which had been transformed into a veritable land of spooks, and where the Nurses' alumni were the hostesses.

As the weird figures arrived at the home, they were greeted by ghosts, silently pointing the way inside. Much merriment was caused by the various garbs, especially by the spook attired entirely in pasteboard boxes.

The spacious rooms were filled with vari-colored chrysanthemums, and witches, black cats and flying bats held sway everywhere.

The first diversion of the evening was the attempt to guess the identity of the various ghostly ones, who were then conducted to the back yard, where myriads of Jack o'lantern faces grinned a welcome and where various games and dancing were indulged in.

Following a march through spook hall, a weird game in the dark was played in the basement and this gave place to a laughable comedy with the scene laid in the office of an old-fashioned doctor. Miss Hazel Greenleaf was the doctor, Miss May Salter the nurse and Miss Eva Salter, the patient.

The ghosts showed their ability to eat and at a late hour consumed with great gusto the delicious pumpkin pie and coffee served by the hostesses.

Victim of Auto Here Nurses Bruises Today

Richard Harmon, 844 North Birch street, was nursing bruises today as a result of having been struck by an automobile driven by Le Orrell of Huntington Beach, at the intersection of Fourth streets and Broadway, according to a report on file at police headquarters here.

Harmon, according to the report, evidently became confused and stepped into the path of the oncoming automobile. The driver attempted to stop his car but could not avoid hitting the man.

Harmon's clothes were badly torn and he received several bruises. Police officers took him to his home.

The BIG "KILLIN' "

Motorists Killin Miles
With Killen-Miles
Repair Work

"Killin' Miles!
That's What I'm Goin' to Do!"

"I'm the Killen-Miles repair man.

"It's my job to give you such good motor repair work that you will 'kill many miles' before you see me again.

"I am rated as the best mechanic in the business. I won't do anything that's TEMPORARY, without telling you. I do it right or not at all.

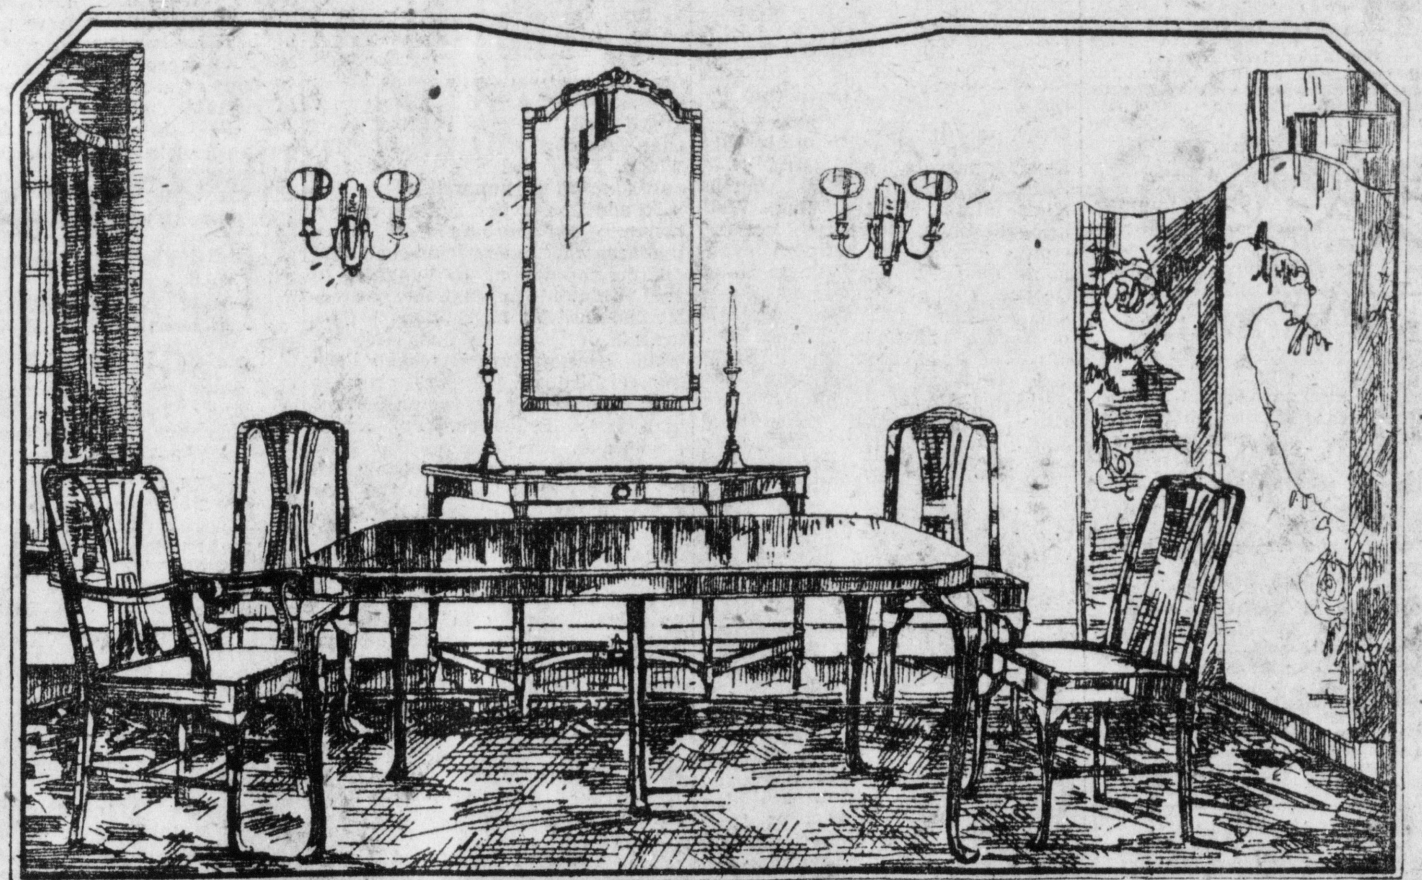

"When I start to work on your car, I punch a time clock—if I leave your job for a little chore I punch it again—you are charged only for the ACTUAL time I put in!

"Then, I'm proud to be a gentleman—to know how to serve you cheerfully and pleasantly—to make you think of your little visit with pleasant recollections."

The biggest 'killin' that could ever be pulled off in Southern California! The kind of repair work that would enable every motorist to kill many miles without motor trouble. The big job that Killen-Miles are tackling in a big way.

The little fellow pictured above is simply a symbol—of expert, conscientious, truthful, thorough mechanics at the Killen-Miles garage, who are of the pleasant personalities that motorists like to meet and talk to about their troubles. Let them introduce themselves and you'll see!

Harmonious Treatment Of Inn Dining-room For Smart Bridge

Never has St. Ann's Inn offered a more brilliant picture than yesterday afternoon when two of the city's young matrons, Mrs. Charles L. Davis and Mrs. Edwin T. McPadden, assembled their friends there for a bridge luncheon.

The lobby where the guests were greeted was adorned with tall baskets of yellow chrysanthemums while in the dining-room where the east end was curtained off for the affair, the decorations were on a very elaborate scale with the Halloween motif predominating.

Twenty tables were vivid in black and orange, while the broad window ledges bore artistic arrangements of baskets of French marigolds and baskets of Japanese persimmons alternating. Silhouetted on the walls were witches, black cats and other appropriate designs and each table bore a wee jack o'lantern lighted by a yellow candle and nestled in autumn leaves. Festoons of Virginia creeper with its brilliant red berries, added to the colorful effect.

At the close of the afternoon of bridge which followed the luncheon of seasonal dishes, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McPadden distributed gifts in harmony with the general appointments, to those who made special scores. These were Mrs. Alex Brownridge, high; Mrs. Roscoe Griffith, second; Mrs. Richard Emison, third, and Mrs. Charles D. Brown, consolation.

Altar Society

Members of St. Joseph's Altar society yesterday decided to hold the Christmas bazaar Wednesday and Thursday, November 21 and 22 in Knights of Columbus hall.

Action was taken at a meeting held at the lovely new home of Mrs. Charles W. Schmiedeberg, at 1209 North Van Ness avenue. The ladies were more than pleased to meet with Mrs. Schmiedeberg again, as her health has not permitted her to entertain for some time. It was also a pleasure to meet her new daughter, Mrs. Leo Schmiedeberg, who was joined to the pleasant gathering of about thirty women of the parish.

Following a brief business session, the following committees appointed by the president, Mrs. E. B. Collier:

Fancy work — Miss Barbara Klatt, chairman; Mmes. Tuthill, Aitkin, Norton, Mosher, Lester, Ruplinger, Hoffman and Miss Elizabeth Easton; candy, Mrs. C. J. Davis, chairman; Mmes. Brook, J. A. May, V. Stroub, Roth and Lynch; parcels post, Mrs. Carl Heim, chairman; Miss Bertha Klatt, Mmes. Grote, Wing, Wallbridge, Miner, Newberry; country store, Mrs. J. P. Murphy, chairman; Mmes. Feeley, William Maag, George Young, Halderman, Favro and Haecker; fish post, Mrs. L. M. Banks, chairman; Mmes. Dierker, Turner, Schmiedeberg, Bradiger, Gorman, Liebermann and Catherine Maag; publicity, Mrs. Olive Lopez; hall committee, Mmes. Feeley, Murphy and Lopez.

It was decided to have cafeteria lunches, instead of dinners this year and the following is the kitchen committee, Mrs. H. A. Shugar, chairman; Mmes. Neylon, Cochran, Taylor, Meyers, Groover, Kramer, Joseph Young, Mordoff, Rudolph, Reynolds, Roelands and Miss Anselmino.

The hostesses served delicious pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee, the napkins carrying the Halloween motif.

Ladies' Canton Club

The Ladies' Canton served the men of the Canton with a delicious dinner on Monday evening, about eighty members of this branch of the I. O. O. F. participating. The banquet hall and tables were bright with bouquets of chrysanthemums and potted plants.

After dinner, adjournment was taken above stairs, where the men held a business meeting, and a social time concluded the enjoyable event.

Browning Masterpiece To Offer Theme For Famous Lecturer

Since interest in the appearance of a national celebrity heightened by the introduction of the personal element, it will be a matter of moment to Ebell members and friends, to learn that Robert W. Van Kirk, world-famous Browning scholar and interpreter who appears at the Yost theater Monday afternoon as the second feature of the Ebell year's program, has strong Santa Ana associations.

For the fact of his cousinship with Mrs. E. E. Remsburg, sister of our beloved late President Warren G. Harding, became known to-day as well as the fact that he is a life-long friend of the Rev. Herman J. Powell, former assistant pastor of the First Baptist church.

Both are anticipating greeting the distinguished Easterner upon his arrival in this city. Monday and with Mrs. Van Kirk and their interesting young people, he will be entertained Monday as luncheon guests at the Powell home on Valencia street. There, the school-boys in Newton, Mass., of thirty years ago, will be recalled as well as pleasant events of companionship in succeeding years.

As an active member of the Van Kirk association (a family organization of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio) Mrs. Van Kirk succeeded President Harding as official head of the clan, and one of Mrs. Remsburg's prized pictures depicts the retiring president and his successor in an informal pose.

In his appearance Monday at the Yost, Mr. Van Kirk will offer no cut-and-dried lecture, but in presenting the great Browning masterpiece of "The Ring and the Book," will dramatize Count Guido Franceschini in what promises to be the most delightful event of the club-year. It was pointed out by the Rev. Mr. Powell, that Ebell husbands should not allow any of their wife's guest cards to go unused as the manner in which "The Ring and the Book" is presented is so thrillingly dramatic as to make it an opportunity no Browning student or admirer could afford to miss were it at all possible to attend.

The fact that the Community Players' use of the Temple theater necessitated the change to the Yost theater for the afternoon, would seem to promise accommodations for an unusual number of guests, so it is hoped that each Ebell member may arrange to have each of her quota of three guest-cards, honored. Apropos of V. Davis, chairman, and Miss Elizabeth Easton, it was pointed out that this was the final session at which last year's membership cards would be honored.

In addition to the lecturer-impresario, the session offers many business matters of interest, including the naming of delegates to the twenty-second annual convention of the Southern District Federation of Women's clubs at Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside, November 13 to 16.

The convention is an important one and will be further distinguished by the presence of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, national federation president, who is on the coast in the interests of the biennial to be held in Los Angeles in June.

Miss Lula Minter, treasurer of the ways and means committee, will be in the theater lobby early Monday afternoon, to receive any clubhouse pledges which may be due.

Ogden Man Claims Santa Ana Bride

Friends were today offering congratulatory wishes to Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Dean following the impressive ceremony which yesterday made them man and wife. Mrs. Dean was Miss Cecelia Alton, daughter of J. E. Alton, prominent rancher south of the city, and Mrs. Alton. Many friends and relatives motored into Los Angeles for the nuptials which were held at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the church of Our Lady of Loretta at Court and Union streets, with the pastor of the church officiating.

Miss Alton wore a smart frock of Lanvin green satin-back crepe with a charming hat whose gray color harmonized with gloves and slippers. The gown was trimmed with self-material in knife-pleating.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Dean with the assembled guests, repaired to the Fountain cafe, where arrangements had been made for a pleasant wedding breakfast with covers placed for Mr. and Mrs. Dean, Mrs. J. E. Alton, mother of the bride, Mrs. F. W. Parcel, Mrs. L. F. Parcel, Mrs. Lizzie Yetter, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, Miss Margaret Halley, Miss Gertrude Alton and Messrs. Leonard Alton and J. E. Halley.

Different points in Southern California will be visited by the happy pair who on Saturday will leave for Ogden, traveling via San Francisco. They are scheduled to reach Ogden Tuesday, October 30, and will go at once to the pleasant home at 370 Twenty-eighth street, which is in readiness for its mistress, Mr. Dean is in government service in the Utah city.

That night, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shaughnessy are to be hosts at an elaborate reception at which the new bride will be welcomed by many friends made during a two years' residence in that city with her sister, Miss Gertrude Alton, following their graduation from Santa Ana high school.

Returning to the Santa Ana home of their parents last spring, the Misses Alton have spent much time in Los Angeles where they were employed in the office of the Globe Mills.

Smart Bridge Luncheon Hints of Approaching Hallowe'en Season

A hilarious Halloween party would aptly describe a delightful intimate little bridge luncheon with which Mrs. John I. Clark yesterday entertained at her home, 611 Bush street.

For the Halloween motif predominated from the clever little roasting ear place-cards with their youthful black-hatted witches, to the quaint chocolate hats which formed individual favors at the tables, centered with marigold and golden-rod.

Mrs. Clark was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. James Metzgar and following the luncheon the tables were arranged for bridge in which Mrs. Howard Timmons scored high, to be rewarded with a box of beautiful appointments for the luncheon received the second gift, a handsome lace and linen tray cloth.

Enjoying the pleasant function with Mrs. Clark were Mesdames Parke Roper, W. A. Huff, C. V. Davis, M. A. Yarnell, Susan Ruth-erford, L. A. Colver, George Briggs, Howard Timmons, James Metzgar, Addie Collins, Charles Kendall Jr., Fred Parsons, H. H. Reeves, Ella Campau, A. P. Nelson, W. E. Winslow and J. P. Baumgartner.

Junior High Girls In Co-operative Fair Score Success

Fruits, jellies, fancy work, plain sewing, and highly prized collections of various articles were today placed on display at the Frances E. Willard school where Every Girl's club of both Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop schools joined in presenting a fair.

The basement of the north building was set aside for the use of the bevy of girls who planned for decorative effects, booth arrangement and adornment and for the display of widely varied articles. Supervisor teachers are in attendance at all hours of the day, assisting the girls in advice and aid. The Julia Lathrop teachers whose hours of duty are in the afternoon, give their aid in the morning—hours beginning at 8 o'clock. In the afternoon, the Frances Willard teachers are free to aid and remain at the school until 5 o'clock.

Today the many mothers and interested friends of the girls who paid their five-cent entrance fee and visited the fair between the morning hours of 10 and 10:30 and the afternoon hours of 2 and 2:30 were treated to a most enjoyable concert which will be repeated tomorrow at the same time.

The fair was planned to bring to the attention of the school and its friends and patrons, the varied nature of work that junior high school girls are capable of doing. Tomorrow will be the final day and it is anticipated that larger crowds will gather than at today's sessions.

Fraternal Brotherhood

Panama Associations Renewed by Members Of Card Club

Eloquent of a succession of interesting days and events in Panama, was a delightfully planned luncheon presented yesterday by Mrs. W. E. Maxon of 408 Orange avenue to a group of guests from Los Angeles, Eagle Rock and this city, who had formed friendly bonds at a time when all were stationed at the Isthmus during the digging of the canal.

Having formed a little social organization which they named the Panama Card club, the members met at irregular intervals and yesterday motored to this city in response to the cordial invitation of Mrs. Maxon, who was a Panama resident for seventeen years.

The Halloween season was suggested in the decorations of black and orange, but the menu and table appointments for the luncheon were entirely foreign and the merry group enjoyed such typical dishes as sancocho, cho-cho, yams Espanol and avocado salad with their cold meats and other more familiar dishes, the final course offering the American favorite of pumpkin pie with coffee and "dulces."

Panamanian airs formed a pleasing musical background to the affair and the final charming touch was given by the wee silk Panama flags concealed in the luncheon favors.

An afternoon devoted to bridge was then enjoyed by the group which consisted in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Maxon, of Mrs. F. S. Watkins, Mrs. William McIntyre, Mrs. A. N. Naylor, Mrs. O. Olson, Miss Gorman, Mrs. Ralph Small, Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. F. T. Stocchini, Mrs. J. F. Cochran, Mrs. G. E. Faulkner, Mrs. C. A. Nelson and Mrs. J. R. Baird.

University Study

Over forty members of the University Study section of Ebell met yesterday at the Edward M. Nealley home in Tustin, and listened with great interest to the second of the series of lectures on psychology which Mr. Nealley is giving this season.

Something about the make-up of the human brain, that most complex and intricate bit of machinery known to science and some of its functions and reactions were discussed by Mr. Nealley in a way that made the story one of absorbing interest to his hearers.

This, the largest section of the Ebell society, is divided into two groups which meet once a month for study. The Tustin group meets on the second Wednesday morning of each month at the home of Mrs. Nealley, with Mrs. S. W. Stanley as leader. The Santa Ana group under the leadership of Mrs. C. F. Crose will hold its next meeting at the home of Miss Mabel McPadden on Wednesday morning, November 14, at 9:30 o'clock instead of meeting as formerly on Tuesday afternoon.

Happy Children Romp With Little Friend On Her Birthday

Fifteen happy children enjoyed a Halloween frolic yesterday afternoon when one of their number was hostess at a gay little birthday party. This was little Miss Maryana Deaver, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Deaver of 1405 East First street and the pleasant affair was arranged to surprise her by her mother.

Hallowe'en decorations were featured throughout the rooms and even the refreshments served at the close of a long and happy afternoon, were appropriate in color and form. The pretty birthday cake differed from the usual pink candied affair and offered instead glowing Hallowe'en tapers on its yellow frosted surface.

Mrs. Deaver, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Otis Hopkins, directed a series of merry games beginning with a peanut hunt in which Masters Clois Purvis and Franklyn Munselle took first and second prizes. "Treasure hunt" just before the refreshment hour, let the children a merry chase ending in a neighbor's garage where Maryana found a new wagon laden with "treasure" and each child discovered a cunning Hallowe'en cap, which was proudly worn to the dining-room.

One unexpected pleasure of the day was the arrival of a beautiful big Honolulu doll, sent to the small maid from Honolulu by her aunt, Mrs. Mary Bird Hadley. Enjoying Maryana's happy birthday with her were Mariann Newcomer, Lorine Rogers, Vivian White, Barbara Martin, Gloria Moffin, Stella Meadows, Elvise and Evelyn Hull, Juanita and Josephine Stillman, Clois Purvis, Franklyn Munselle, Charles Kaufmann and James Otis Hopkins.

Entre Se Club Holds Merry Reunion

A reunion of the members of the old Entre Se club was made possible this week by the presence in the city of one of the well-beloved members, Miss Celia Cotter, who returned today to her home in Los Angeles. She has been a guest of Miss Lida Crookshank of French street.

The gathering of the old "bunch" was held at the home of Mrs. George S. Smith on French street last evening. One of the enjoyable features was "listening in" for the two numbers sung on the radio by Mary Garden.

Two tables of bridge were placed, a huge pumpkin being awarded the honor guest, Miss Cotter, and Miss Lida Crookshank was consoled with a tiny edition of the species squash.

Delectable refreshments furnished a delightful close of this jolly "get-together."

REVEAL BUBBLE CASE SECRETS AT HEARING

Dr. William R. Price, Los Angeles promoter who has figured in a number of ventures involving him in court procedure, today was undergoing in Los Angeles his preliminary hearing upon an embezzlement charge. Price, among other things, is charged with fostering the famous "land bubble," whereby, according to federal officers, scores of persons were induced to file homestead claims on the Irvine ranch in Orange county.

According to witnesses who testified at yesterday's hearing, Dr. Price was involved in the operation of two gold mines in Alaska, a plan to place hundreds of homesteaders on the Irvine ranch, the establishment of a "school of motherhood," and the dissemination of the secrets of hermetics.

John Wiese, Los Angeles, said he had contributed $2500 to various funds at Dr. Price's solicitation. He charged Price with making arrangements with an asserted Alaskan miner for the sale of a mine whereby the New School of Christian Applied Psychology, headed by Price, was defrauded of $10,000. He asserted Price kept $5,000 of this money, collected from alleged "dupes," while the miner got the remaining $5,000.

Other witnesses testified that they had put up amounts ranging from $100 to $2200 in an effort to obtain land from the asserted Irvine grant.

Dr. Price, a former clergyman, figured in court procedure in Long Beach several years ago.

Police Send Artesia Boy Back to School When Friend Missing

Leonard Duncan, 12-year-old Artesia boy, walked into police headquarters here this morning and asked help in finding his companion, a vegetable peddler, who had disappeared. Leonard told the police that he came to Santa Ana from Artesia before daybreak with the peddler.

While the man was making the rounds of Santa Ana restaurants Leonard decided to walk around the streets. The two became separated for the day, the law said it appeared.

The only information the lad could give regarding his friend was that his name is "Joe". The boy was anxious to return to Artesia in time for school so police officers contributed enough money to purchase a ticket for the boy.

Charge Youth Insulted Woman Walking In City

Malcolm Kilgore, 22, of Orange, today was at liberty under $2 bail, on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested last night by Police Sergeant Elliott when he was said to have addressed profane remarks to a woman who was passing the police station.

Sergeant Elliott was standing in front of the city hall when an automobile bearing three men passed. Kilgore is said to have accosted a woman walking along the street. He will appear before Acting City Recorder O'Gepp for trial.

the opportunity to return to Santa Ana.

The manager said his company expects at an early date to become actively identified with the upbuilding of Santa Ana and Orange county.

"Opening here by my company of a branch is conclusive proof that Santa Ana is attracting the favorable attention of men responsible for many of the largest and most successful realty projects in Southern California," said Houghtaling.

"The Taft Land and Development company has won national prominence through the subdividing of Hollywood, Beverly Hills and San Fernando Valley lands. The office here was opened only after a careful survey of the future possibilities of this section."

"The Taft organization is now in its thirty-third year of successful activity. Continued patronage by old clients is evidence that the company principles and business integrity have been of the type that has won the confidence of the public."

PLAN MIDNIGHT REHEARSAL OF CHAIR PLAY

Taking part in a community play isn't all fun and frolic, it was indicated here today when it became known that the cast of "The Thirteenth Chair," to be presented at the Temple theater four nights beginning Monday, begins its nightly rehearsals now at 8:30 o'clock, and that, because the theater will not be available Saturday until that hour, the dress rehearsal will have to be held beginning at 11 o'clock at night.

"The midnight dress rehearsal Saturday will be something of an innovation in local amateur theatricals," said Ernest Crozier Phillips, Players' director. "But there is nothing to do but hold it late at night. The success of any play, whether amateur or professional, depends to a large extent on the dress rehearsal. This must be held with full scenic equipment and costume and on the same stage on which the public performances are to be given. Thus, we would have held our dress rehearsal at 3 o'clock in the morning, if the stage had not been available until then."

Phillips said that rehearsals were being begun early in the evening in order that as much time as possible might be devoted to the task of smoothing out various details.

PAVING SUREST NEED FOR PARK IN S. A. TOLD BY EXPERT

City Should Secure Site Before Available Land Is Gone, Says Fowler

BY E. U. FOWLER,
(Formerly supervisor of parks and boulevards at Edmonton, Canada.)

"Returning to Santa Ana after an absence of a few years, I find the need for parks greater than ever. This city should secure sites before the tide of development wipes out all available and natural settings for park purposes. "Santa Ana needs a broad and far-seeing plan for street and boulevard making—for maintenance of a well kept, stately and uniform appearance throughout the city. "Beautify your city, your home and your location, so that all who see shall say: 'Here are beautiful homes, attractive streets, a prosperous city with a bright future.' Population and wealth come to a city that is progressive. "Every city should have a center—a plot of ground right in the heart of the inside district. It should be carefully planned and landscaped and secluded from the tide of business. Shaded walks should lead to a center in which should be located a fountain. It should be a place for adults and children—a point to which mothers could take their little ones for play and feel that their little charges are free from danger. "First impressions tell the story to the stranger, the tourist and those seeking knowledge of new districts, new cities through which they pass. "By fine impressions a city is either praised or condemned. "Benefit of Beauty "Other cities have early realized the fact that a city attractive, a city pleasing to the eye, is a place of interest to the outsider. They have planned accordingly by making the most of natural features. "Under the touch of a master hand, rough places become smooth, bare plots of ground become beauty spots and serve the needs of the leisure hours of the citizens seeking recreation and fresh air. "Nothing impresses the stranger so much as pleasant recreation grounds, parks, boulevards, well kept gardens and highways. Such have a great influence in attracting the investor, the home seeker and the tourist. "Expensive to keep up, some will say. That is an impression which is mostly an exaggeration, for as a capable housewife can make a poor place look like an expensive one with little effort, so can a city dress up its front, if the

Improvement Indication of Civic Pride Held By Residents of City

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM

Santa Ana Already Has 54 Miles of Streets Paved In City

One of the surest barometers of a city's growth and progress is its streets. In a city that is growing and has community pride the street department is ever on the alert. It is constantly at work striving to keep pace with the city's growth. Such a city has a paving program laid out that is apparently unending. Santa Ana has such a program.

At the beginning of the year 1922 Santa Ana had approximately 54 miles of paved streets. Since that time the paved street mileage has been increased and an extensive program is still ahead of the street department to be accomplished. "Twelve paving jobs have been recently completed and proceedings for twenty-four more are under way. The streets recently paved, or in the process of paving, are not confined to one section of the city alone. These streets are in all sections of the city and are being paved at the petition of property owners who have pride in their city and realize that the surest indication of civic pride is well paved streets.

Streets recently paved in Santa Ana are: Bristol, west Fifth, south Garnsey and west Myrtle, east Myrtle, west Walnut, Bachman Drive, MacLay street, Fairview avenue, between Main and Flower, Lynwood and Eastside avenue, and west First street.

Proceedings are under way at present for the following streets: Forest avenue, Borchard avenue, Sycamore street, Broadway, Van Ness, Parton, north Garnsey, Wilshire avenue, Lacy street, from First to Fourth; Spurgeon street, from Seventeenth to Twentieth; McFadden street, Fairview avenue, from Flower to Bristol; Santa Clara avenue, from Bush to Lincoln; Spurgeon, from Santa Clara to Edgewood; Santiago, from Santa Clara to north city limits; west Eighth, from Bristol to King; west Second, from Baker to Artesia; south Flower, from Fairview to Edinger; Fruit, from Garfield to Grand; north Park boulevard, Riv-

MARKING ERA OF PROGRESS

UPPER: Santa Ana's skyline through girders of First National Bank.

INSERT: Rivet Gang driving "hot ones" in skeleton of first skyscraper.

As sure footed, agile steel workers climb aloft and hurl hot rivets from furnace to workman, to the tune of the compressed air hammer on the First National Bank building, Santa Ana's first skyscraper is taking shape and through the skeleton of this first structure of magnitude to be erected in the city is offered a glimpse at a new era of civic development. The erection of this modern office building is the first milestone on the road to greater commercial achievement for the city of Santa Ana.

The building of a structure of this type is in itself a romance. It is the romance of men who have faith in the community. Their faith is such that they are investing approximately $400,000 in the community's future. This investment will give to the city its first skyscraper. The building will be six stories and have eighty offices. The basement and first floor will be occupied by the banking insti-

DOCTOR TELLS WORLD S. A. IS BEST CITY

Dr. James Farrage was declared today by members of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, present at the national convention of the American Legion in San Francisco, as the greatest Santa Ana and Orange county booster extant.

In support of their declaration they told of a radio address by the physician broadcasted from Hale Brothers broadcasting station Monday night of this week.

Dr. Farrage, they said, asked the privilege of making the address, and he "told the world" that Santa Ana is the greatest shipping point in the world for walnuts and that Orange county is the richest area of its size in the world. He said that Santa Ana is the best city in the best county in the best state in the best nation in the world.

Incidentally, it was related that the Santa Ana men flooded the convention and San Francisco with literature on Santa Ana and Orange county.

Men returning from the convention this week declared it was a big success, with a great deal of constructive work resulting.

TIME FOR A NEW ROOF

The time for a new roof was really months before this Lily Pond started forming. Mr. Jones is shown registering distress and disgust. He is utterly disgusted for not having obeyed that impulse last Thursday when he read an advertisement by The Pacific Roofing Co., warning him that lily pond time was close at hand.

LAND HOLDERS ORGANIZE ON SOUTH MAIN

A. B. Rousselle Heads New Improvement Body to Promote Industry

With a view to further promoting the section as an industrial, business and residence district, property owners and subdividers said to represent $5,000,000 worth of property in the South Main street district today had completed organization of the South Main Street Improvement association.

Directors and officers are: A. B. Rousselle, president; Robert E. Brown, and Andrew Cock, vice presidents; J. H. Timmons, secretary; A. P. Isaacson, treasurer; H. G. Wendell, J. R. Ramsey, M. P. McKinley, E. A. French, L. S. Schroeder, F. Vellmer, B. C. Hall, H. R. Frank.

Subdivisions represented at the organization meeting were: The Country Club Gardens, Chancelier Manor, Junior High School tract, South Park Homesites, Hatfield property (yet to be named), McFadden tracts Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, Wilshire Square, Edinger Square, and O'Brien tract.

Stated meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesday evenings of each month, at the store of Travis and Reid, now located in the new business block on the South Park tract. All property owners in the district are eligible to membership, the secretary stated.

"The south Main street district is due for a greater and more rapid expansion even than the fast development of the past two years," said a member of the association today.

"The organization has been created for the purpose of organized assistance in promoting the development. Industrial and business activity is increasing here and indications point to the section becoming a very important industrial and business center."

SCRIBE WRITES S. A. BOOST POEM

P. L. Briney, former newspaper man of the east and now a business man of Santa Ana, has become an ardent booster for Santa Ana, as witness the following verse to his brother, J. H. Briney, at Atwood, Kansas:

To be regarded as old should be no disgrace;
With a conscience that's clear look the world in the face,
Be not over anxious your age to conceal,
For true is the saying: "You are as young as you feel."

Though our brow may reveal a few furrows of care
We find it less trouble to comb our hair,
But, alas, as the years roll by apace
It requires more effort to wash our face.

But before you grow older, allow us to suggest
That you resolve at once to see the great West.
To one whose life has been spent in the East
Southern California offers a veritable feast.

We have everything here that heart could desire;

COMMERCIAL SECRETARY GREAT INFLUX OF WINTER TOURISTS TO SANTA ANA

"Santa Ana should prepare for the greatest influx of winter tourists that has ever visited this city," said J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the chamber of commerce today. "Southern California will be the mecca for more people from the east during the winter months this year than ever before and Orange county, and more particularly Santa Ana, will receive its portion of these visitors," he continued. "This statement is not just idle talk but is based on facts. Already the town is crowded with people who have come here from the East intending to make this city their home. They are seeking homes. Never in the history of Santa Ana has so many home-seekers arrived this early in the season."

"As secretary of the Chamber of Commerce I meet a great many of these people who come to this office seeking information regarding the city. These visitors tell me that houses, and even apartments, are at a premium already. Houses are scarce and the winter season has hardly started."

Future Predictions. "Southern California and Santa Ana will have the greatest influx of tourists this year that it has ever experienced. Next year it will be greater. These tourists are coming here with the intention of making their homes here. Next year a larger crowd will arrive. I predict that every year during the next five years the winter home-seekers, or tourists, will increase. Beyond five years I will not attempt to predict."

"Southern California, and when I say Southern California I mean more particularly Orange county, is sold to the people of the east for the next twenty years. It is our job here in Santa Ana and in other cities of the southland to keep it sold."

"By keeping Southern California sold I mean keeping Southern California and every city in the southland over before the people of the east as a desirable place to live. Keep it before them as a place where everything possible is done to make life a joy."

"To my mind the first duty of the Chamber of Commerce is to make the city it represents the best place in the city to live in. There are many of chambers of commerce but they are secondary when compared to this, the first duty."

Gift of Opportunity. "Santa Ana is receiving a good share of the eastern home-seekers coming to Southern California because these home-seekers are realizing that this city and Orange county has something more to offer than just climate. Santa Ana and the surrounding territory offers the home-seeker the greatest gift. It is offering the gift of opportunity. Opportunity to achieve through effort. No place in the state can soil so rich in productive qualities be found. No place can business or professional man find a better field for his activities."

"To the man with a family Santa Ana offers the ideal home environment in which to raise his family. This is primarily a home city. Educational facilities here are second to no town. Santa Ana has schools that are classed among the best of the south. Capable teachers direct the studies of the children and prepare them to be citizens just a little above the average."

"Spiritual development is not overlooked in Santa Ana. Practically every denomination is represented here and every church is headed by broad-minded, far-seeing pastors who, in addition to laboring for the spiritual uplift of the community, assist in every possible way the material improvement of the community."

"These are just a few reasons why I believe that Santa Ana will receive a large portion of the tourist travel that is scheduled for Southern California this year. These are a few reasons why I feel sure that the greater percentage of the home-seekers will come to Santa Ana and after a thorough inspection of the city will decide that this city shall be their permanent home."

Angeleno Reveals Plan for Residence

That W. B. Moore, of Los Angeles, contemplates erection of a handsome residence on Newport boulevard, north of Irvine boulevard, was revealed here today with announcement by Frank Was, of the First National bank, that he had sold to Moore three acres of his eight-acre tract on the boulevard. The consideration is reported to have been $7500.

Was says that Moore already has taken steps to have plans drawn for a residence. The three acres has a frontage on the boulevard of 196 feet.

Horticulture Chief Seeking New Home

A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, today was looking for a new home in Santa Ana, following sale of his residence at 817 South Broadway to Victor T. Hawk. According to reports, Hawk paid $7250 for the place. Hawk will take possession November 15. The buyer recently sold his home at 715 South Van Ness. The Warner Realty company was the agent in the transaction.

WINDS DAMAGE PERSIMMONS, AVOCADOS

Persimmons, as well as avocados and citrus fruit, were more or less damaged by the recent heavy winds, according to E. A. White, experienced fruit buyer and member of the firm of E. A. White and company here, today.

"The wind brought down many persimmons," White said, "and as a result the bottom dropped out of the market. At this time last year we were paying from eight to ten cents a pound for persimmons. Today we cannot ship them too far East. Avocados are bringing only fifteen cents, whereas last year at this time the fruit brought thirty cents per pound."

White said his firm has on hand 1,500 pounds of ripe persimmons which must be sold immediately if the grower is to make a profit. H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, was inclined to believe, however, that much of the persimmon acreage escaped major damage, but admitted that citrus trees in some sections of the county had been blighted by the wind.

"There is a moral in the matter," Wahlberg said, "and that is that more attention must be paid to late fall irrigation. Yesterday I examined at Tustin an orchard, one-half of which had been irrigated about ten days or two weeks before the winds."

"The half that had been irrigated escaped damage. The other half was badly blighted. This shows that every year at this time, when we may reasonably expect winds, we should see to it that simple irrigation work is done. If the leaves and branches have ample moisture they are far better prepared to stand the wind."

OWENS PLANNING CHICKEN RANCHES

According to his announcement today, establishment of a number of two and a half-acre chicken ranches is the purpose back of the purchase this week by I. J. Owens of ninety acres of land on Buaro road, one-half mile south of the Blankenbecker store.

The purchase was made from Frank Was, of the First National bank, the deal, according to Owens, being made entirely on a cash basis. The consideration is not revealed.

The new owner stated, however, that the purchase price was such as to make it possible for him to offer the subdivision tracts at prices that will interest any one seeking a small ranch home, with chicken raising as the principal activity.

"The ranch is planted to alfalfa and the situation is such as to offer a fine subdivision," said Owens. A well producing 150 inches supplies all the water necessary."

But "blooming" in a tire isn't as beautiful and nice a proposition as in a flower.

Blooming in a tire results from deterioration, and old age. When the tread begins to get white around the edges, then it's blooming. And when it begins to bloom, look out for it. It's a danger sign.

DIAMOND TIRES DON'T BLOOM. They're especially treated not to. Their black, shiny tread is always the same black, tough tread no matter how old it may be.

Diamonds don't grow old. You've just naturally got to wear them out by hard tough use. And they'll stand the roughest kind of usage to which a tire can be put.

dressing is done under a carefully planned system.

First Impression Counts

"The investor follows the road of prosperity and will always consider first the town which, to the casual eye, is dressed properly. He is fully conversant with the fact that a town which takes pride in its appearance means a town with progressive citizens."

"The homeseeker invariably desires the home he makes to be surrounded by pleasant features. And in order to obtain these is not only willing to spend more money, but is also careful where he chooses his final location. Many a town of today has as its prominent landmarks the residences of wealthy people who have spared no expense to make the home they live in attractive. Homes set well back from shaded boulevards, with spacious grounds carefully cultivated, present an effect that attracts all."

City Sets Example

"Always a city must set the example if it desires the home builder to beautify his residence. 'Boulevards approaching and passing through a city, carefully laid out and treed to furnish a shaded street, are always appreciated. They give the finishing touch to the homes that abut on each side."

"Making the most of the natural features is always a point to be emphasized in planning landscape effects for civic parks and centres. Such planning in the hands of experts will make a wilderness a garden, and a vacant space a place of beauty and rest, pleasing to the eye and the senses of those who seek temporary rest from the struggles of everyday life."

"These streets are under proceedings at present and will be paved within the next few months. There are other streets for which petitions are being circulated and will no doubt be placed under proceedings by the board of trustees at an early date."

Santa Ana's civic pride is prompting this paving program that is giving to Santa Ana and Orange county the reputation of having the best paved streets and highways in any part of Southern California. Santa Ana's development barometer is going up as indicated by street paving now under way.

John Parkinson and Donald B. Harkinson, Los Angeles architects are in charge of the construction of the building. Edward C. English is the general contractor in charge of the work. The actual construction is under the direction of Lewis Beyer who represents the contractor, O. O. McReynolds, superintendent for the architects oversees all construction.

Practically every contract for material in the building has been awarded to Santa Ana firms making this, the city's first skyscraper, a community achievement. According to a statement by McReynolds, local firms have been shown preference in all branches of work on the building.

Local firms contributing to the success of the building are: Hill and Sons, who have the contract for plumbing; Robertson Electric company, who will install all electric lighting fixtures and appliances; John McFadden company, sheet metal; C. H. Chapman with the contract to supply lumber for the building and the Garber Brick company, under contract, to furnish the brick.

According to plans of the architects the building will be completed by April first and will stand as proof of faith in the future of Santa Ana.

Those who demand more will have to go higher.

Our scenery and climate are second to none,
Our building activities have only begun.

We have resorts in the mountains, likewise at the beach,
And highways superb by which they are reached.

Opportunity knocks just now at your door;
But step on it quick if you get on the ground floor.

From making this local we cannot refrain;
Santa Ana's praise we cannot restrain.

Prose would fail to express it, and poetry much less,
So our failure in either we are frank to confess.

OUR CHIEF INDUSTRY

Do the citizens of Santa Ana fully realize that the principal industry in this beautiful city is to provide homes for the newcomer.

At the banquet of the members of the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening with 163 of our citizens present there were but 9 who rose when all native sons and daughters were asked to stand. Only 5 1/2% were native born Californians.

The other 94 1/2% selected this city as a home solely because of the local conditions. The citizens of Santa Ana have ever been called upon to assist in making Santa Ana attractive to encourage the stranger to make his home here.

The increase in population has never been as great as today. It is necessary for every good citizen to help provide homes. It is of vital interest to the future prosperity of Santa Ana that every one who can should now help in this work. Your money is needed. We ask that you invest with this association.

THE HOME MUTUAL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION is the pioneer in assisting the home builder. It was organized over 30 years ago by our leading citizens for the purpose of encouraging thrift and saving, and to assist in the building of homes.

It now has $736,000.00 in its 6% Investment notes.

It now has $425,000.00 in its 7% Installment Stock.

It now has $1,300,000.00 loans (net) in force.

It now has 747 Investment Notes in force, averaging $1,000.

It now has 1900 Installment Certificates, averaging $225.

It now has 660 loans in force averaging $2,000.

Loans are made in Orange County, and in Los Angeles County to Santa Ana boys and girls who have moved there.

Our circulars will answer many questions that you might like to ask about these investments. Why not call for one at the office?

"Seeds that Grow"

ORIGINATED BY BRENTANOS - CATERED BY THE RIDGEWAY COMPANY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Loring Ranger offers a reward of one hundred thousand dollars for the return of his missing daughter, Hope. Acting upon instructions from Hope's abductors, Ranger deposits a hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds at a specified place.

Dr. Bristow has a private sanitarium and in it Hope is held a prisoner. Dr. Kelsey is detained there because he knows of criminal dealings of Bristow.

Hope and Kelsey become friends and together they manage an escape in Bristow's car. They ride to an abandoned house owned by Hope's father. Kelsey falls asleep and Hope hears the voice of Bristow in the yard. Juarez Charlie, an adventurer and close friend of Ranger, is trailing Hope to the sanitarium.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Bristow knows there is a hiding-place in the house. I am going to give myself up. Reach my father. Love forever. Hope."

Without giving her impulse time to cool, she hurried back to the cupboard and crept into the passage, closing the panel carefully behind her. Kelsey still lay in deep, exhausted sleep. She bent over him, her lips near to his; then drew back, fearing to awaken him. Very gently she slipped the note between his relaxed fingers, and then felt her way along the wall until she reached the other exit.

Outside at last; and no sign that she had attracted any attention. Shielded by two or three out-buildings and concealed by patches of shrubbery, she reached the gap in the hedge. Passing through it, she made a quick detour to the right to muddy her skirt and shoes in the trickle of a brook; and so at last came to the open space where the wrecked automobile lay.

She heard the men approaching who had been whistled back from the woods, and began dodging from tree to tree as if attempting to hide.

They saw her as she had intended they should. Two of them caught her. She made a show of struggle, but they held her fast by the arms.

In answer to their shouts, Bristow and the others came running through the hedge. "Ah!" he said with unctuous satisfaction as if a weight had been suddenly removed from his chest. "Now to get the other one." His eyes were like points of steel as he came close to Hope. "Where's Kelsey?" he demanded.

She looked at him vacantly.

"Who?" "Kelsey," he repeated, "the man you went away with. Where is he?" "That man?" He was under the automobile; there was blood on him.

"Yes, yes. But what became of him?" She leaned toward him with the air of imparting a confidence. "That man is crazy. He said he wasn't, but I know better. I wanted him to hide in the woods. I know these woods." She passed her hand uncertainly over her forehead. "I don't know how I know them, but I do. I wanted him to hide here, but he wouldn't do it. He talked about getting a boat down on the beach, and when I wouldn't go with him he ran away." She waved her hand vaguely toward the shore.

Bristow's eyes bored through her, but she looked beyond him listlessly indifferent. Finally he gave a curt order to have her taken back to the hospital.

CHAPTER XXI

KELSEY woke up slowly, dragging himself from his long, exhausted sleep and blinked his heavy eyes.

Why, it was daylight! His whole sleep-fogged brain was roused now. Why was the panel open? Ah! There Hope stood in it—No! It was a man.

Then he sprang. The man in the opening ducked, and raised an arm to shield himself.

"I'm a friend!" he cried, throwing himself against the side of the cupboard. "Honest; you can believe me. A friend of Ranger's."

Kelsey loomed above him, still threatening, but his lowering glance had shifted. What was this he was holding in his clenched hand—that bit of white paper sticking through his fingers, between the spreading knuckles?

Juarez Charlie had dodged; and quick as a cat on his feet, stepped from the cupboard into the room. Kelsey had unclosed his hand, and was straightening out the paper. He could see that there was something written on it, but the light was too dim and gray for him to decipher it. He was in the room and at the window in two strides.

Here he read Hope's message. The rain was dashing against the window-pane; the wind wailing about the house.

The uprushing blood darkened his face. He whirled savagely, and caught Charlie by the shoulder, shaking him hard.

"Who are you? One of their men? Did you help take her?"

"I did not." Charlie wriggled like an eel from that biting grasp and stood rubbing his shoulder. "I'm one of Ranger's men, Juarez Charlie. Do you get that?"

He swaggered, his hands in his trousers' pockets, his head at its most impudent angle.

"I've been wandering about with one-third of a picture-puzzle, trying to piece the rest out of the air. And you've got the other two-thirds. They know that I'm on their trail, and that I've been in Barcelona. They think you're drowned."

"Drowned? Me?" Kelsey repeated. "In heaven's name, why?"

"She told them you'd made for the shore, and a boat. Then, that terrific storm. Lord! Did you sleep through that?"

"I seem to have slept through everything, but my own special Judgment Day. I'm going through that now."

"But still," Charlie continued, "there's always the chance of your being alive and at large. So, everything considered, they've got a new situation before them, something they haven't foreseen."

"But, my God; if you're what you say you are, one of Ranger's men, all you have to do is to go out now and telephone him and the authorities."

"Oh, is it?" Charlie retorted with acrid sarcasm. "This thing isn't quite as simple as it sounds. You start out to telephone, and you'll be nabbed sure."

Half-convinced, Kelsey gave way ungraciously.

"What sort of a place is this sanitarium?" The brusque tang of the question gave Kelsey the feeling that Charlie was really heading somewhere, and aroused him from his misty abstraction.

"Bristow's?" He looked up. "One of the best in the country. Only for the very rich of course; thoroughly modern, splendidly managed. Bristow is an alienist of the first rank, with a criminal twist and a craze for money."

"What were you doing there?" Kelsey told him briefly of his position as assistant burglar, and the circumstances of his detention; of his first experience with Hope and of the role she was playing; of their subsequent meetings and the escape.

Charlie's cigaret burned to ashes in his fingers as he listened, his face sharpened down until it was wolfish; but he did not once interrupt the story or ask a question.

"Bristow!" He held up one of his lightning-rolled cigarets, naming it. "But," squinting thoughtfully, as he laid it on the table, "he couldn't swing it alone. Too big. Who else is in it?"

He shot the question at Kelsey like a bullet from a rapid-fire revolver.

"Miss Copsey. She's a nurse. Looks strikingly like Hope. Passes as an older sister in charge of the insane younger one."

Charlie pursed his mouth in a whistle.

"Any one else?"

"Higgins. An ex-Alderman. An old millionaire. Made a fortune in Wall Street, they say."

Charlie bounded up with a stifled exclamation, his tongue clicking his teeth.

"Hobo Bill! That does settle it. Hobo Bill! I might have known it. Hobo—the Joker in the deck!"

He bobbed about the room like cork, snapping his fingers, muttering broken phrases under his breath.

"The hobo messages!—This booby-hatch for a headquarters!—The nurse, a ringer!—I've got the whole thing!"

CHAPTER XXII

"In the first place," said Charlie, "I've known Ranger ever since I was a boy, and when I heard about his little girl, I started out on my own to find her. I know crook psychology better than old Byrnes ever did; but this gang that are holding her footed me forty ways from the ace. But last night I got a tip that led straight to Bristow's Sanitarium."

"I rode as fast as my motorcycle could race from Westchester to Barcelona taking all the short cuts. It was on one of them that I came on you two. And so I rushed for a doctor, thinking you were ready to kick in; and as soon as I reached the village, I got pinched. So I just turned in and went to sleep; that is, as much as that fierce storm would let me."

"But in the meantime, my mascot had got busy. She it was who gave me the lead to Bristow. I'd had dinner with her, and put her back in a bus with her party. They all went on to spend the evening with some friends, and as they came back about midnight, they stopped at the Lost Hill garage for some gas. Up steps the garage man's assistant, a shock-headed lunk, that had driven me and my queen to the Inn. He was all twittering with excitement, and tells her that I've been arrested over here at Barcelona."

"What a headpiece that girl's got. Here's her friends kind of giggling at her for being took in. She don't believe that; for she saw me with Ranger. And Barcelona is the tip she gave me. But she wants to make sure. So what does she do but call up the man whose names been in all the papers as Ranger's attorney, Eustace Higby."

"He tells her that I'm all right, and then he routs out Frank Bryan, Ranger's private secretary, and shoots him down here on the morning train to get me out."

ROTARIANS AND

LIONS WILL MEET

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.

With invitations extended to all the local Rotarians and with all the local members of the Lions club and those from other towns invited, it is thought that a fine turn out should be had at the next meeting.

Chairmen of the day, Phil Drane and Harry Groves, are planning a special Halloween party for the two organizations. Special singers and speakers imported from Los Angeles will feature the bill. The local Lions trio will also play. The room is to be decorated in fitting colors and everything will be in readiness for a record attendance say officials of the club.

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes wornout, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.—Adv.

CAUSE FOR CUT IN ELECTRICITY RATES, TOLD

District Manager W. L. Deimling of the Southern California Edison company here received official notice today of the rate reductions just ordered by the railroad commission, to be effective with meter readings on and after November 15.

"The present maximum lighting rate of 7.9 cents for each kilowatt hour, is reduced to 6.5 cents, representing a reduction of 17 per cent," explained the district manager. "Corresponding reductions are made in all other lighting rates, bringing these rates down to figures below the rates in effect prior to the World War. Street lighting rates are reduced on the average of 11 per cent, industrial power rates 10 per cent and agricultural rates 10 per cent.

"The total reduction ordered by the railroad commission amounts to $2,200,000 a year and is the fourth rate reduction of Southern California Edison company rates since January 1, 1921.

"The railroad commission in this order points out that this additional substantial reduction of rates has been made possible because of approximately $40,000,000 spent by the Edison company in new water power development, together with a large increase in demand for light and power throughout the whole territory served by the company, and to substantial reductions in the prices in fuel oil, specifically referring to the fact that the increased demand for power in the territory served by the company in 1923 was two and one-half times greater than for the year 1914. This, with the rapid growth of the lighting business and concentration of business due to heavy development of the territory served by the Edison company, is most convincing evidence of the growth in population and prosperity of the whole territory.

"That this fourth reduction in Edison company's rates since the peak rates during and immediately following the war indicates in no uncertain manner the determination of the railroad commission to reflect in its orders the trend of the cost of production and distribution as applied to public utility service with even-handed justice to the consumers and the utilities alike is the preponderance of press comment in announcing the railroad commission's final order issued after more than two years careful investigation.

Rate Payers Represented
"The rate payers were represented by twenty-five cities, the City Attorneys Association of Southern California, the California Farm Bureau Federation, several irrigation districts and land companies and a number of large manufacturers."

"There are sixty-seven typewritten pages in the full text of the railroad commission decision," said R. H. Ballard, vice president and general manager of the Southern California Edison company, today, in a communication to District Manager Deimling. "We are, of course, giving it a very careful and exhaustive study," continued Ballard. "It covers so many features of the electric business and deals with so many problems that it will be impossible and premature to make any statement concerning it until we have time to thoroughly analyze the result of the study which has been before the railroad commission for more than two years and which has involved not only the best intelligence of the various departments of our own organization, but of the attorneys representing a number of cities and farm bureaus of the state. To my mind the outstanding feature of the railroad commission's decision is that the $40,000,000 of expenditure for new water power plants in the past few years has made substantial rate reduction possible. Our development program for the future involves an expenditure in excess of $20,000,000 a year."

Union Pacific In Property Purchase

Indicating that the Union Pacific company is preparing for extension of its yards at Anaheim, it was announced here today that the company has purchased from the Southern California Sugar company a group of lots adjoining the Anaheim sugar factory for side track purposes.

According to reports reaching here today, the railroad company paid $40,000 for the property.

Mrs. Ketter Buys Owens Residence

Mrs. Minnie Ketter, who recently purchased the Owens' cafe on West Fourth street, has purchased of I. J. Owens the residence property at 1897 North Main street. It was announced today by Owens. The consideration was $13,000. Following completion of improvements to be made in the property Mrs. Ketter will move from Long Beach to her new home, it was said.

Insanity Plea Made By Slayer of Girl, 16

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 23.—Citing the legal procedure first followed in the trial of Abbe Delorme, counsel for George King, charged with slaying Erie Johnston, 16, in her parents' home, sought to convince Justice Mowat that the accused man is insane, and therefore unfit to stand trial until a jury has first heard the evidence of an alienist.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 27th, at the Junior High School building, there will be organized a class for the correction of speech defects, such as stammering, stuttering, lisping, etc. Children of all ages may enroll.

Land Company to Open Third S. A. Unit

According to announcement here today by George E. Humphreys, local representative, the South Coast Land company on Sunday will open its third subdivision unit at Carlsbad, San Diego county, the unit to be known as the Carlsbad Palisades.

Humphreys says that units one and two virtually have been sold out, and that the demand for lots has been so pressing that the company has made special effort to have the new unit available by Sunday.

Following strictly rules of the company, Humphreys said that no sales would be permitted in advance of the opening date. "Cement curbs, gutters and walks have been installed, streets have been graded, marbelite electric trolleys installed and water and electricity are available," said the local representative.

CARTOON CLUB IS FORMED AT POLY

Cartoons for all occasions. That's one of the purposes of the new Cartoon club at the high school which met here this week with twelve members present, and elected Hugh Hicks president, and Paul Beard, secretary-treasurer. She expressed her approval of the pleasure at the successful launching of the unique club.

Tustin Property In Eastern Deal

W. D. Crawford and Ralph MeTaggart have traded twenty acres in the Tustin district to C. R. Maxson for acreage near Grand Junction, Colo. It was announced here today. The consideration on each side is said to have been $24,000.

BEACH SCOUTS TO DO HONOR TO HARDING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25. A Harding memorial service will be held by the local Scout troop here Friday evening, November 2, while they are in camp.

The local Scouts will go into camp Friday evening and be in camp until Sunday morning. They will be dismissed early Sunday morning. They will be dismissed early Sunday morning to allow them to prepare for Sunday school.

A complete program has been arranged for the three days' camp. Each of the older Scouts 'are to have charge of the junior Scouts and will be required to teach his younger Scout brother something of Scouting.

The Harding memorial program is in accordance with the scout rites, which will be held over the state.

Saturday night the scouts will give a reproduction of the "Camp Fires of Camp Rokili" where many of them spent part of their summer. The public is invited to come and watch the Scouts in their drills and exercises.

The camp site has been chosen as the grounds where their cabin was recently completed for them by union men.

Gustlin Purchases Property In Tustin

Establishing a value of $50 per front foot for property on B street between Second and Third streets, Tustin, Walter F. Gustlin this week purchased two lots on the northeast corner of B and Third streets, paying $5000 for the two parcels, according to announcement here today.

The corner lot was purchased from James Utt and the lot adjoining on the north from the Knights of Pythias lodge of Tustin.

Gustlin has leased the property to the Shell Oil company and the company by the 10th of the coming month will start construction of an oil station.

Realtor Recovers From His Injuries

Bookkeeper Comes Out With Actual Facts

Erwin T. Hubbard, 2962 Francis Ave., Los Angeles, bookkeeper for the Southern Pacific Railway, is another who has cause to be glad he was induced to try the Tanlac treatment.

"Since taking Tanlac," said Mr. Hubbard, "I can eat a hearty meal without suffering afterwards and have gained fifteen pounds. I had suffered from indigestion and nervousness for two years. I could not eat anything without bloating up as tight as a drum and the gas pains in my stomach were terrible."

What makes them run... when they don't have to?

HUSKY as young Spartans! Lively as spring lambs! What makes them run... when they don't have to?

It is the tireless fountain of energy in every normal child! Turn a bunch of healthy youngsters loose and, for no special reason, they will break into a wild run. What matters where they're running? It is the spirit of the chase—even when there is nothing to chase. It is the winged spirit of childhood.

But this wonderful fountain of energy doesn't flow of itself. It must be filled and refilled—constantly. And it takes food to do the filling.

This is one of the ever-present problems of mothers. "What can I give my children that will supply the quick-to-use energy they need—and yet stay with them?"

Happily, there is such a food. It is called Germea for a peculiar reason. But this reason is what makes Germea peculiarly good for children. The reason is this:

Germea is made from "germ," the very heart-center of the wheat. Only 2% of the life-giving germ is found in the whole of the wheat. Yet Germea, because of its special process of manufacture, contains 10% of "germ." In other words—five times as much life-energy as there is in the whole of the wheat!

So why not do as many other wise mothers are doing—make Sperry Germea the mainstay of your children's breakfast. It will mean more power to them and less worry to you.

Santa Ana is the first city on the Pacific coast to see the two-reel film taken at Belmont Park, New York, last Saturday when Zev and Papyrus, 3-year-old horses, raced for the international championship. The film will be shown at the Yost and West End theaters for three days beginning tomorrow.

The official pictures of the great match race, with $100,000 as the purse, is the work of twenty cameramen who were stationed at various positions around the famous Belmont track.

The pictures were rushed to California by airplane and Manager Yost of the Yost and West End theaters immediately obtained them to show audiences here. The film does not open in Los Angeles until Saturday.

"THE FRENCH DOLL" TO CLOSE RUN TONIGHT

Mae Murray, exotic film star and dazzling dancer, was rated a woman plus recently by a world-famous feminist.

This is what the feminist said about her:

"Miss Murray embodies all of the qualities for which the new woman is striving.

"In the first place, she possesses all of the charms which males are so pleased to find in a woman. She has that soft clingingness, that delicate wistful manner like Dresden china, that charming, luscious femininity which is the epitome of true womanhood.

"Yet, at the same time, she has independence, self assurance, scornful of the male superiority and quite able to get along on her own fight for her rights.

"It is easy to imagine that Miss Murray would leave her daintily perfumed bouffant readily to address a 'Woman's Rights' meeting."

Mae Murray in "The French Doll," directed by her husband, Robert Z. Leonard, will be shown for the last times tonight at the Princess.

"The French Doll" is a lavish production from the celebrated Paris and New York stage success of the same name.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

NEED $300,000 FOR U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM

Journey to Paris In 1924 For Yank Athletes Is Expensive Sport

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—With the matter of funds a paramount concern, the executive committee of the American Olympic association meets today in all day session to complete plans for the participation of the United States in the Paris games next summer.

The committee needs $300,000 to transport to Paris and train and maintain a team there to represent America's interests in the big games.

There is not anything like $300,000 in the treasury and the committee must seek some way of getting the public interested in the campaign for funds. All needed, the committee feels, is to have the situation revealed to the sporting part of the public.

Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the Olympic committee, is back after an extended stay in Paris, where he completed all the arrangements for housing, feeding, training and entertaining the 200 or more athletes who will be carried with the team.

Completes Paris Plans.
Colonel Thompson, with faith that the public will support the team, secured only the best for the athletes and if the funds are not available it will become necessary to change all the plans.

Remembering the complaints made by the athletes—justly so—about their accommodations in Antwerp, the committee decided to make its own arrangements for the comfort of the team this year instead of leaving it to the Paris committee.

One of the most important items of business has to do with the discussion of the coaching staff and also the setting of dates and places for sectional and final trials.

In 1920 the team was handled by a board of coaches of which Jack Moakley, the veteran Cornell trainer, was the senior member, or chairman. Moakley is one of the most efficient coaches in the world, but he has only one fault—he is too nice. The team got away from him in Antwerp.

Robertson Suggested.
Lawson Robertson, the University of Pennsylvania coach, it is understood is being considered as the head coach for the next year's team. Robertson is competent, he was very popular with the team at the last Olympics and he is a disciplinarian.

To get the team to Paris in time to be thoroughly acclimated, it will be necessary to sail from New York not later than June 16 and, owing to the early date, which is far in advance of the regular season, some difficulties will be encountered in getting the athletes in form for early sectional trials.

The final trials, because of peculiar geographic requirements, will be held in the east not later than two weeks or ten days before the date for sailing. It is possible that the final trials might be held at the same place or at the same time of the intercollegiate championships as the team probably will be comprised largely of college stars.

Harvard and Pennsylvania Universities have invited the committee to hold the final trials in Cambridge or Philadelphia, and Baltimore also would like to be the host of the athletes.

Tustin Indoor Players Defeat S. A. Realtors

TUSTIN, Oct. 25.—The Tustin Knights of Pythias indoor baseball team last night defeated the Santa Ana Realtors in a hard fought contest. The score was 15 to 9.

It was anybody's game up to the seventh inning with the Realtors leading 5 to 4. A seventh inning rally put the Santa Ana men five runs in the lead. A change of pitchers in the eighth proved costly to the Santa Anas when the Knights scored three runs, making the score 9 to 7, the first of the ninth.

Accomies for Santa Ana were Sam Ryan, and Crody; for Tustin, Foster, Perrozzi and Squires.

COVINGTON SHIFTS SPENCER TO FIRSTS

Speed Boy May Get Chance In Santa Ana Backfield Against Whittier

Oscar Spencer, fleet halfback and formerly a first string substitute, probably will start in the Poly backfield Saturday afternoon when Ed Covington and Bill Cole shift their Santa Ana eleven at the Whittier Poets here in the second Tri-County league brawl of the season.

Spencer worked out throughout last night's drill and the railbirds proceeded to figure it out the speedy boy will get his big chance Saturday. In case Spencer does start, Covington probably will shift Bill Luck to offensive fullback with "Greeky" Williams, who will call signals, backing up the line at fullback on the defensive. "Barney" Le Bard will remain at left half.

Spencer is the speediest man Covington has on his squad and with the Poly mentor endeavoring to build up a fast offensive, he should fit nicely into the scheme.

There probably won't be any changes this week in the Santa Ana line although "Fat" Sheets, by virtue of his showing at tackle in the Long Beach melee, is expected to get a chance to show his stuff again against the Poets.

Covington isn't so sure his men are going to wipe up the earth with the Quakers. Whittier didn't have much last season but they held Fullerton to a 13 to 7 score and were beaten by the crack Pasadena eleven 27 to 0. Every man but one on the Whittier team played last year and such a team of veterans always is dangerous.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Center college, on its fourth invasion of the east, is expected to arrive here Thursday for the game with Pennsylvania Saturday. All of the 58,000 seats in the stadium have been sold. The Colonels will work out Friday.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 25.—Richeson, former Tulane star, has been definitely selected as the regular Yale quarterback and he will lead the team against Brown Saturday.

Either Stevens or Pond, the star baseball pitcher, will work in O'Hearne's place.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Penn State and West Virginia teams, which are to meet here Saturday, will arrive tomorrow. The West Virginia squad will remain in town while the Staters will seek the section of Long Island.

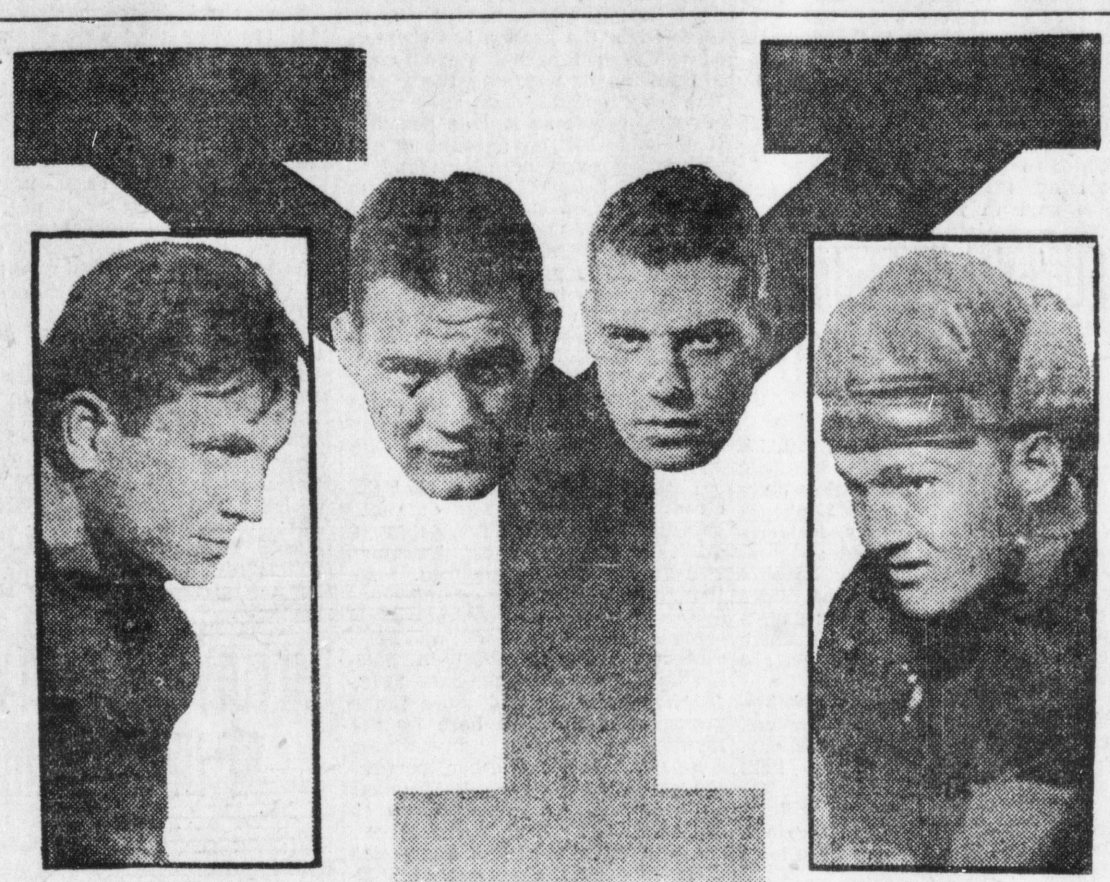

Advance sale of tickets indicates an attendance of 36,000.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 25.—Battered, bruised and stung by their 26 to 0 defeat at the hands of California Saturday, the Oregon Aggies squad was back on the training field today tightening its offense and determined to stage a comeback when it meets Washington November 3.

Hard to Get Ahead of Willie

IS THIS OLD ELI'S YEAR?

They say in the East that this is a Yale year, and that the Blue of the Elis will snap triumphantly in the breeze when the last punt of the season is kicked. Besides many of his old dependables including Captain Bill Mallory, called the best defensive fullback in football, Coach Tad Jones has a number of other good bets at his beck and call. Stevens is playing a smashing game in the back field. Hulman is shaping up splendidly at end, while Miller and Diller bid fair to be ranking tackles judged by their work in the earlier games.

CARRESE, BAKER END WORK FOR BIG MILL

Harry Carrese and Sam Baker, man mountains who tangle in the main event at Kid Mexico's Huntington arena tomorrow night, today completed their training grid and were all set to decide the heavyweight supremacy of the Pacific Coast.

Carrese, who knocked out Carl Morris in four rounds last July 4, is training at Huntington Beach. He is down to the 210 pound mark and has expressed confidence that he will get away to a good start on the coast.

Baker, a colored boy, is from Douglas Fairbanks' movie studio and is generally recognized as the best heavyweight on the coast. He has won his last ten starts by the K. O. route.

Harry Lee, the husky life-saver, draws the semi-final assignment with Ray Neal as his foe. Neal, formerly a consistent main eventer at the Delhi arena, has just returned from Mexico where he has been milling over the fifteen round limit. Lee has been coming forward rapidly and looks good enough to hold his own with the former Santa Ana.

Whittier Babes Win Over Fullerton High

POLY SECOND TEAM WHIPS LONG BEACH

Adkinson's Men Score Two Touchdowns By Close Following of Ball

Following the ball with an aptitude that brought great glee to the spectators and then amking the most of the "breaks" of the game, Coach Ray Adkinson's Santa Ana high school second team yesterday afternoon defeated the Long Beach high school seconds on Poly field by the score of 12 to 0.

The locals made both their touchdowns in the second half. Full-back Burns was indirectly responsible for the first score when he intercepted a Long Beach forward pass and raced forty-five yards to tie four-yard line before he was smeared. Schroeder carried the ball over the goal line on a buck off tackle.

Two poor passes by the Long Beach center in the last quarter gave Poly its second touchdown. The second pass barely grazed the Jackrabbits' waterback's fingers and the oval rolled to the Long Beach one-yard mark where a Santa Ana lineman pounced on it. Schroeder bucked the ball over the line.

Burns, Hays, Moon and Mitchell were the outstanding stars for Santa Ana, the defensive work of the last two named being exceptionally brilliant.

The Santa Ana lineup: Moon, LE; Buell, LT; Thayer, LG; Manderscheid, C; Benson, RG; Mitchell, RT; Howard, Doerr, RE; Schroeder, Q; Hayes, LH; Hamilton, RH; Burns, F.

"The health of the people is one of the most important questions of the day." Anything which conceals information about health is little short of criminal.

People are entitled to know all about their teeth—all about dentistry—for infected teeth cause widespread sickness, disease and suffering. People cannot know of these things unless they are told, and the best way to tell them is to advertise.

I advertise—because advertising educates and tells where good dentistry can be had, and the great masses of the people are now getting good dentistry while under the old style only the favored few knew about it and could afford it.

LEGION MEN TO SEEK FUNDS FOR HOME

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—Plans are now under way by Joseph Rodman post, American Legion, to put on a party, when the local talent will be able to "strut their stuff," as one of the Legion boys put it.

Jack Robertson is said to be in charge of the program and is getting up fine acts, according to reports made by other members of the Legion. Mr. Robertson has proven his worth in similar matters several times this season and has assisted in all the programs given this year by the local post.

To Seek Building Fund.
The discussion to put on the party came as the result of starting a building fund recently. The subject was taken up at the meeting of the Legion men in the fire hall Tuesday night, the first meeting to be held since the change of the meeting dates.

It was decided to put on a party probably Wednesday, November 21, at which time local talent would provide the program. The public is to be admitted for a small consideration and the proceeds will be added to the building fund.

The party will also include a dance and other features to be arranged at a later date.

L. W. Mitchell, adjutant of the local post, gave an interesting talk on the San Francisco convention, which he attended with three other local Legion men.

Accepts Flag Trust.
The post accepted the trust of the flag belonging to Mrs. Cowan of this city. The flag was draped over the casket of her grandson, who gave his life to his country during the World War. The flag is to become the property of the local post at the death of Mrs. Cowan.

Report of the Armistice Day celebration will depict "The Field Kitchen," and which will no doubt bring back memories to many of the boys who have indulged in just such activities. The local post will endeavor to bring the prize to Huntington Beach, Adjutant Mitchell said.

A special meeting of the Legion will be held the first Tuesday in November in order that all plans may be perfected for the Armistice Day, program. The regular meeting, which falls on the day after Armistice Day, will not be held.

TWO CASES BEFORE JUSTICE THURSDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—S. M. Smothers of this city will be tried before Judge W. C. Warner's court this afternoon at 2 p. m. on a charge of disturbing the peace. Smothers is said to have "beat up" Joseph Petroska at the Methodist camp grounds recently, using first a monkey wrench and later a club.

Mr. Petroska was arrested recently on a charge connected with Mr. Smother's daughter. It is said Petroska was acquitted of the charge. Smothers is said to have been aided by several other men in "chasing" Petroska about the camp grounds until he took refuge in a friend's house.

A civil action brought by the Maryland Casualty company against Ray McIntosh of this city for alleged damages done when his car is said to have caused a window to be broken, will be heard. The window, which was broken some time ago, was smashed when Mr. McIntosh cranked his car after some one had left it in reverse gear. The car started and backed across the street, forced another auto up over the curb and into a plate glass window. The window was insured by the Maryland Casualty company. The case started at 10 a. m. this morning.

1500 Barrel Well At Beach Comes In

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—One new well came in this week. Pan American company No. 5, showing 1500 barrels of high gravity oil.

The well is said to be 3,800 feet deep and shows a slight cut.

Several other wells are reported to be on the verge of coming in. It is said that more extensive development work will be started in about three or four weeks by the largest companies in the field.

Reports yesterday afternoon were to the effect that Globe La Bolla No. 1, situated by the tile factory, had come in at 8,000 barrels. Investigation proved the rumor to be without foundation, although the well had been cemented off and was ready to come in at any time. Bailing was progressing rapidly yesterday afternoon.

It is estimated that the daily production of the field will soon be back up to its old standard.

LIVE NEWS ITEMS FROM BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, Oct. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Evans of Los Angeles visited his father, J. A. Evans and family, Sunday. Mr. Evans is in very poor health, and has been confined to his bed for more than a year.

W. C. Alsh and family moved to a house in the Ritter addition. Mrs. C. H. Owens and family spent Sunday at Escondido.

Kathryn Hill went to Los Angeles shoppers yesterday. Mrs. Lynden Wells, who has spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill, has returned to her home in Huntington Beach.

FIFTH STREET AT BEACH TO BE WIDENED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—With the court proceedings now in progress on the proposition of the widening of Fifth street, officials and people of this city were today feeling very much relieved and pleased that the issue had been brought about so smoothly.

"Everything in my department is ready to commence work at once on the actual work of widening the street," said City Engineer L. F. Gates. "As soon as the court procedure is over we will start work," he continued, "I anticipate that work will commence on the street within thirty days."

Much "Red Tape"

For many months the people on Fifth street and other people interested in the growth have watched the slow progress made in the proposition of widening the street. The city council has been rushing the matter as fast as possible. It is said that on account of the amount of court procedure and so called "red tape" connected with the proposition that one street in the city has been in the process of widening for the past eight or nine years.

The street is to be made ten feet wider on each side, the city having purchased ten feet of each of the property owners on the street. The street is to be widened an actual width of seven and one-half feet with the additional two and one-half feet added to the sidewalk.

With the announcement that the street widening is an assured success it is expected that a great number of new buildings will soon be commenced. Although no official announcement has been made of the fact it is thought that the work on Fifth street will be instrumental in holding up the work on the new $100,000 hotel theater and store building soon to be built here by the Huntington Beach investment company. Several other persons are said to have been holding off on account of the uncertainty in regard to the work on the street.

Additional work was completed this week on the section of Walnut street in front of the post office. The street is now in first class condition in that block.

Bids on the repairing of Seventeenth street from Main street to the city limits will be opened November 5, it was announced today.

ISSUE BUILDING PERMIT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—One home building permit issued to H. M. Cooper of 614 Sixteenth street for the addition of four rooms to his home at that address brought the total building permits issued this month up to 27.

The permit was the only one issued during this week although several more will be taken out later this week, it is thought.

HALLOWEEN TO BE QUIET.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—Hallowe'en parties are in order. The local Scout troop is to have one at the Woman's clubhouse Hallowe'en.

Scoutmaster C. E. Morris declares that a party on this night will keep a great deal of property where it belongs this year. It has been suggested that enough parties be started to keep all of the young folk out of mischief.

The plans for the party are not as yet completed but the elder will flow freely and it will be liberally sprinkled with ghosts, goblins and witches.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH TO BE OCTOBER 28

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 25.—The dedication of the new Alamitos Friends church, two miles west and three-quarters of a mile north of Garden Grove, will be held next Sunday, it was announced today.

At 11 a. m. the cornerstone will be closed. Those who will participate in the ceremony will be Rev. Richard W. Haworth, pastor-emeritus, Rev. Ella C. Veeder, the first pastor, and the surviving charter members of the church.

The church is the outcome of tent meetings held in September, 1890, led by Lindley M. Baldwin, Jeremiah and Jane Grinnell, Ella C. Veeder and Sadie Bond.

Those services were followed by regular services in the tent and then in the schoolhouse. In April, 1891, the church building was occupied. In September of that year the Alamitos monthly meeting was set up on the minutes of the Pasadena quarterly meeting, signed by Charles E. Tebbets, clerk.

The pastors of the church were: Ella C. Veeder, 1890-1897; Miles Reece, 1897-1898; Thomas Armstrong, 1898-1899; Tilman Hobson, 1899-1900; Caroline N. Hunnitt, 1900-1904; George Taylor, 1904-1909; Clifford N. Jones, 1909-1910; John T. Hadley, 1910-1913; Miriam C. Mendenhall, 1913-1917; Clifford N. Jones, 1917-1920; H. B. Spayd, 1921; Richard Haworth, 1921-1923; George Taylor, present pastor.

The first services were held in the new church September 16 of this year.

EVENING SALUTATION

And when the ebb of eventide,
Afar across the strand,
Sets out to where the billows ride,
Beyond life's shifting sand,
Then softly back above the roar,
Of mad, mad waters flung,
Oh, back, bring back to me once more
The songs my mother sung.

FIT INTO COMMUNITY LIFE

When a California community is of the friendly, optimistic sort, it doesn't take long for a normal Easterner to become a part of the community.

That has been proven time and again in Santa Ana. The man or woman who comes here from "back East" has no difficulty at all in getting into the stride of "things doing". He is received with open arms, and is made welcome. If he is a musician, all of the musical activities of the city are immediately his. If he has been a Rotarian, or a Kiwanian or a Lion in his old home town, he is received with the heartiest of handshakes by members of his club here. His church is his home, and his favorite lodge makes him feel as though he were among friends, as, indeed, he is.

The transition from taking part in community affairs in the city in which he was born and reared to taking part in affairs of Santa Ana—or, as to that, in the affairs of any of Orange county's cities—is indeed brief, how brief depending entirely on the disposition of the newcomer to cast his lot with those who are already here and to do his share in carrying forward the banner of our community spirit.

That recent residents are playing a prominent part in the affairs of Santa Ana, was demonstrated graphically at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday evening of this week. Of the 180 workers present, fifty per cent had been residents of Santa Ana for less than five years. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that of the 180 only nine were born in California.

That Santa Ana is a place into which newcomers may quickly fit their activities and their lives, is a factor of real consequence when one considers Santa Ana as a place for home-making. It is a condition worth pointing out to your friends and relatives whose homes are in the East.

FOR REAL ENFORCEMENT

Almost everywhere there is expressed profound satisfaction with the declaration of the governors' conference for full co-operation with President Coolidge in the enforcement of prohibition. The chief executives of the states and the federal government, jointly charged with the execution of the Volstead Act, are now both committed to energetic action. If state and federal governments go ahead on this basis, working harmoniously and supplementing each other's efforts, prohibition will come nearer enforcement than it has so far.

There is really nothing else for public officials of any class to do, if they are honest, patriotic and intelligent. There is almost universal agreement that the Eighteenth Amendment represents the will of the nation and is destined to stand. The only real disagreement is regarding the Volstead Act, in interpreting the amendment. While that is the law of the land, there is a growing realization that it must be enforced.

Orange county residents as a whole have been and still are in favor of the Volstead Act and in favor of its enforcement. Any officer of this county who winks at law-breaking is not reflecting the spirit or the desire of the great majority of the people of this county.

That being the case, Orange county officials can be depended upon to do their full share in helping California to do California's full share in nationwide enforcement of the law.

PROHIBITION AS AN ISSUE

Dry enforcement, all at once, shows signs of becoming a political issue. The action of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, in practical efforts in his own state and in his Washington speech at the national citizenship conference, has served to focus public attention on the subject. It was inevitable that somebody should precipitate the issue sooner or later.

It is a fact, as everyone familiar with general conditions knows, that so far, on the whole, prohibition enforcement in this country has been difficult. The situation is one that clamors for attention.

Prohibition is not naturally a partisan issue. It is a moral and social issue. It was so recognized in all the campaigns which led to the federal prohibition amendment and the Volstead enforcement act. Yet it is certain to be dragged into party politics, state and national, if present conditions continue.

If it is, there may be a rude awakening among bootlegging interests and tolerant citizens who have been saying that the American people "do not really want prohibition". A strong leader, taking a strong stand for dry enforcement, in the name of either party, would sweep the country if the other party took a contrary or half-hearted position on the subject, no matter what other issues were involved in the campaign. The American people as a whole will vote for law enforcement.

NO AUTOGRAPHS TODAY

President Coolidge, it appears, is refusing requests for his autograph, even when they come from rather important personages. He is said to have turned down such a request from the son of President Zayas of Cuba, made in that official's name.

This procedure may reduce Mr. Coolidge's popularity with various small-minded people who happen to be disappointed in their quest for the signatures of celebrities. It will not offend the millions who know that a Chief Executive of the United States is an extremely busy man, needing every minute of time and every ounce of energy he possesses to deal with important matters of national concern.

If President Coolidge can really discourage the ubiquitous autograph fiend, he will not only save some of his own strength but render a useful service to all men who occupy responsible positions.

LOST DIPLOMATS

The expected resignation of two American ambassadors brings to prominence once more the fact that this influential and wealthy country greatly underpays some of its most important officials. It may be democratic to hold that a public servant should gladly take a portion of his remuneration in the satisfaction of service to his country. In practice that policy is most undemocratic, for it excludes competent and qualified citizens of limited means from holding high public positions, including the important positions in the diplomatic service. It makes these offices very nearly a monopoly of persons of wealth.

It may also be a kind of economy to pay low salaries to public servants and to count on their patriotism to make up the difference between salary and expenses from their private incomes. But it is a very poor sort of economy to lose the services of efficient men because of inadequate pay. Training and experience, both particularly necessary to efficiency in diplomatic fields, are lost when there are frequent changes of ambassadors and ministers.

The public should think on these things rather seriously and encourage Congress to do the same when it convenes.

No Soup Kitchens This Winter

November Sunset

Will we be able to buy shoes for the baby and gas for the car this fall and winter? That, after all, is the question nearest our hearts.

According to present indications we will all survive the winter with a fair amount of fat left on the ribs by spring. Though we are now importing as much as we export, business enters the cold season in excellent condition thanks to the check put on the inflation process last spring. Nobody except the farmer has heavy stocks of commodities on hand. In the basic industries the iron, steel and textile mills are working at capacity on profitable orders; the railroads are hauling a record tonnage, making money and improving their credit; the building industry, experiencing a needed check when prices threatened to jump over the moon, is plunging along steadily and will continue to do so for years unless exorbitant costs and profits call a halt; the coal miners are at work and the metal mines are fairly busy taking care of the domestic demand. Even the luxury industries like the automobile and movie factories are continuing to turn out their products at high speed.

Now about the farmer? The publishers of agricultural publications assure the public—and the advertiser—that the straw in Hiram Hayseed's lips is going up, that his southwest pocket is going down under the weight of the coin. Let us hope that this is true, but the department of agriculture announces that the farm output today will buy only 71 per cent of what the farmer could purchase with it ten years ago. With the exception of cotton and wool the prices of the farm staples are still down to or below the pre-war level, with no improvement in sight unless H. I. drastically reduces the output, thus making us in the cities pay more for what we eat and wear.

On the whole, then, we have real cause to spice the Thanksgiving turkey with sincere gratitude for the blessings America has enjoyed and is enjoying. Also, we can do our Christmas shopping early without worrying especially about the bills.

A Money Lawlessness

Fresno Republican.

Senator Borah has been repeating lately, for the benefit of his large American audience, some pertinent truths about law observance and law enforcement. He points out that the wealthy patron of the bootlegger and the poverty stricken crank who sits in the attic are both defiant of law, but that the wealthy man does a great deal more harm by his preachment and his example.

The verdict of history, we take the presumption to predict, will be that the delay in the general respect for the Eighteenth amendment has been almost entirely due to the privileged classes under the Volstead act. By "privileged," we mean those who with the means to stock their cellars, or the means to patronize and protect the capital bootlegger, or the means to travel from Los Angeles to Tia Juana and come back with a holdover jag, produce irritation on the part of others. Two years ago, the great mass of those who would have preferred that traffic in booze should continue, were ready enough to accept the verdict of the nation. But those who smirked that they, at least, would never want for a cocktail as long as their bank books lasted, have been the means of making contempt for law fashionable.

The country is, we are satisfied, slowly recovering from this fever of fashionable lawlessness. But it is an experience of which we should be very ashamed.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

WHERE IS THE LIVER?

As it is rather unusual to have a pain in the liver, very few people have the right idea of its location.

Now the stomach assumes different positions in the body, depending on the food and drink taken in, but it is a rare thing for the liver to move out of place unless something is wrong.

Physicians are able therefore to locate the liver and gall bladder fairly well by the use of their hands only.

Occasionally in very thin people or people with very lax abdominal muscles the liver "falls" somewhat, and is then spoken of as a "wandering" liver.

Also in women wearing tight corsets the liver gets pushed downwards a number of inches.

I know the thing to remember is that underneath the ribs on the right side you have the right lung, extending from collarbone to about the fourth or fifth rib. From this point to nearly the bottom of the ribs, is the liver.

Roughly, down to the nipple is lung, and below that is liver. But the liver extends right across the front of the body to the left side, in fact nearly one quarter of it is actually on the left side.

On the right side it rises up into an arch in the diaphragm which in turn arches up under the right lung. Thus as mentioned once before, whenever a breath is taken in, the lung thus squeezes down against the liver and helps the flow of bile from the liver. A natural "liver squeezer."

The liver is so large that it actually fills in all the space on the right side from the ribs in front, to the ribs behind. It is really the largest organ in the body.

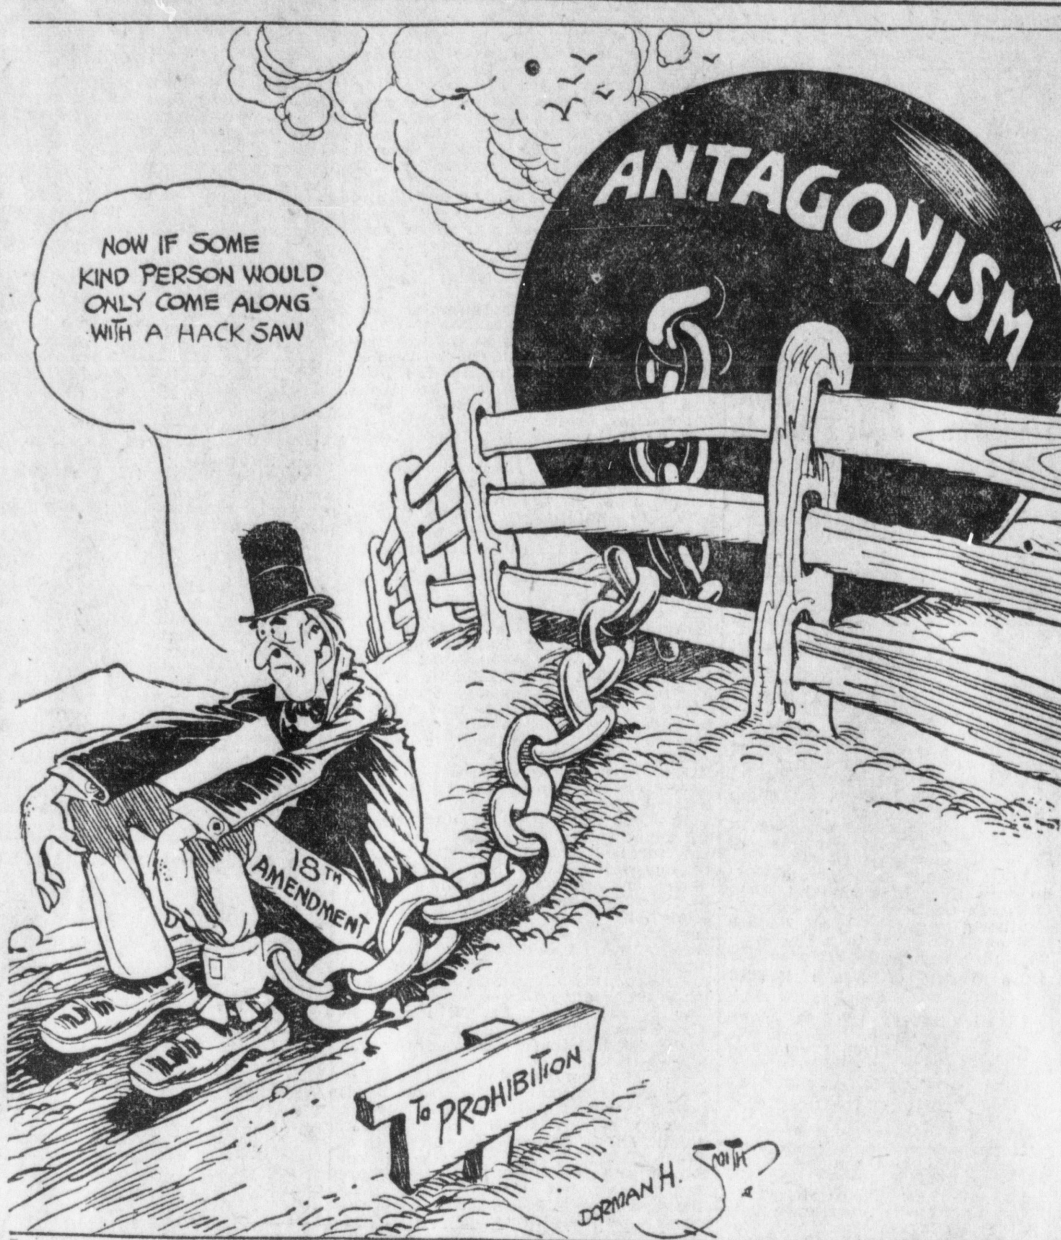

As you know the gall bladder is attached to the liver on its lower surface, and holds any excess of bile manufactured by the liver. An acute pain in the region of the gall bladder may be due to a number of things, a growth, or even gall stones.

Where a line drawn from the bony lump on the right shoulder to the navel crosses the edge of the ribs is immediately over the gall bladder.

Gas causes most of the pain in this region, but where there is very severe pain going right over to the shoulder, a pain that brings out the perspiration, with a yellows of the skin, then the gall bladder is in distress and you would be wise to consult your doctor.

I know that people get along all right after the gall bladder has been removed, but its use as a reservoir is still admitted by physiologists.

So Far, So Good

Laughter and Health

Pasadena Star-News

Laugh and be healthy. This is the adage that Charlie Chaplin, film comedian supreme, gives to the world. The famous screen star told an assemblage of school children in Detroit, who were giving a demonstration of their health education before the American Children Health Association, that he is going to resume the making of comedy pictures, and added this observation: "Health is a state of mind, and laughter is the best tonic I can suggest."

Physicians and all who have to do with the promotion and protecting of health, know the value of cheerfulness in combating disease. Laughter undoubtedly has therapeutic merit. The person who is habitually cheerful and light of heart is freer from ailments than the solemn person who takes himself or herself too seriously.

There is more wisdom, more philosophy, more good sense, in laughing than in eternally moping and moaning our grievances, or ailments, or disappointments, or reverses, or wrongs, real or imagined. To be extremely sensitive and to give way to sadness at every adverse turn in one's affairs is to acknowledge one's lack of moral courage and is to acknowledge also that one is narrow and self-centered.

One hour in God's open, under the kindly heavens, should cure almost any ordinary hurt. To laugh at and with Mark Twain, or Josh Billings, or Bob Burdette, in books, or to see a rattling good comedy on screen or stage, should be worth more to one, in dispelling gloom, than to receive an unexpected bundle of greenbacks.

Worth While Verse

FOR YOU

For you the winds are in the trees, and bees and birds are lyrical,
For you the fresh leaves flicker out a mile along the lane;
For you at dusk doth God repeat His ancient, stary miracle—
For you the scarlet of the dawn, for you the dancing rain.

Of you the grass is gossiping, of you the winds are amorous,
Of you the waves are whispering along the sandy bar;
Of you the blackbirds in the pines with myriad throats are clamorous,
And all the swallows twittering how wonderful you are.

In search of you the butterflies on golden wings are wandering,
And violets are looking out with peering, purple eyes;
For you the yellow jasmamine its bright doublebells is squandering,
And for you the epic earth goes singing through the skies.

He's as good as yours, you awt to be glad my dog is willing to associate with him, I sed, and the girl sed, She's not a him, and anyway, kind of allow me to inform you she's a thorough King Charles spaniel and she's got a pedigree.

Well wat if, my dog has 2 of them, I sed. Wich maybe he did for all I knew, on account of me not knowing wat a pedigree was, and she sed, That's impossible and I don't even bleeve he has one. Then neither do I bleeve yours has, lets see it, I sed, and she sed, Its not something to see, her pedigree means her father was Chillingworth Prince Charming and her mother was Nottingham Lady Finger and her granfather was Chillingworth Bouncer the 2nd and her granmother was Glenwood Queen Bee the 3rd.

Making me feel mizzierable on account of not knowing anything about Yardo's family, but I sed, Aw, thats nothing, G wizz, my dogs father was the King of Spain the 4th and his mother was the Emperess of Jerusalem the 6th and the Count of Monty Crisco the 10th and his granmother was the Queen of Ireland the 18th.

O youre jes making that up, she sed, and I sed, Aw go on, youre jellies.

And I wawked away feeling better insted of worse and Yardo quick kissed her dog good by on the nose and kepp on following me.

IN THE LONG AGO

OCTOBER 25, 1909.

Clinton Crawford of Tustin was injured but his automobile was damaged when it was struck by a Santa Fe train here.

The Gary Brothers Crushed Rock company filed notice in superior court that it would appeal $312 judgment awarded George I. Eels of Garden Grove.

Frank Potter of El Toro swore to a complaint charging his brother-in-law, John Rios, with disturbing the peace.

The Central school football team defeated the Its team of the First Baptist church, 11 to 10. Goepfer, Rogers, Todd, West, King, Newton, Crissman, C. Smith, Mansur, Hurrell and Pierce played for Central. W. Smith, Carey, Wallace, Simmons, Catland, Hoxie, Finley, Jaden, Woodward, Heard and Deaver played with the Its.

The McCormick team of Los Angeles scored four runs in the ninth inning and defeated the Santa Ana club for the Trolley league championship of Southern California, 5 to 4. Players for Santa Ana were Coleman, Slaback, Mott, C. Head, Meats, Robinson, R. Head, Angle and Church.

Damage totaling $1000 was done to the room on Main street occupied by the Miss Ruth Taylor Millinery and the Merigold Brothers' Art store when fire broke out in the building early today. Both stores carried insurance.

Strength in Illinois

San Bernardino Sun

Arthur Sears Henning is the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, some of whose articles got into the Los Angeles Times. But not all of them. For Henning writes without instructions, and reports as he sees things, and just now he sees some things that would not be pleasing to the Times. Henning is scouting through the Middle West, and at his home in Chicago, he paused to study the Illinois situation, which led to the observation that "Illinois, apparently, is going to be the storm center in the Presidential race next year." This for two reasons, one of them local.

Illinois is all shot to pieces politically, because Len Small is Governor and a lot of Republicans, including the Tribune, take no stock in him. Small is likely to be a candidate for re-election, and the Illinois politicians who are more interested in National than in State matters are crossing their fingers in the hope that the Small candidacy may in no way be tangled up with that of their Presidential favorite. It is that setting which leads Henning to say that if the Illinois primary were to be held tomorrow, and the race be between Senator Hiram Johnson and President Coolidge, the Californian would get the big Illinois delegation.

Neither among those Republicans who are booming President Coolidge to succeed himself, nor among those who will carry the banner of Hiram Johnson, should the California Senator become a candidate, is the thought of the re-nomination of Governor Small. The same may be said of those who are endeavoring to persuade former Governor Lowden to become a candidate for President. Small on the ticket would be regarded as a heavy, if not fatal, load to carry.

With everybody waiting for President Coolidge to show what stuff he is made of, the national political situation in Illinois is as nebulous as it is elsewhere. But Illinois evidently is regarded by the Coolidge backers as a danger spot. While Fred Upham is being quoted as pronouncing the nomination of Mr. Coolidge a foregone conclusion, with Illinois on the front seat of the band wagon, several of Coolidge shouters have admitted to me that, if the primary were held today and were a contest between Coolidge and Johnson, the latter would sweep the State.

"The business men are pretty solidly for Coolidge," said one of these Coolidge leaders, "but the farmers and labor are either cool or non-committal. They know Johnson far better than Coolidge and on the basis of present conditions Johnson would be the strongest candidate in this State."

"Coolidge has his future in his own hands and we who are for him have no doubt that he will insure his nomination without appreciable opposition when he delivers his message to Congress and shows how to handle the lawmakers."

On the other hand, a prominent Johnson booster confided to me his doubt that the Senator can be nominated. He opined that neither Johnson nor Coolidge would go into the convention with a majority of the delegates, whereupon the conservatives would concentrate on Coolidge and nominate him or put over a conservative dark horse.

That of course is on the theory that former Governor Lowden will not be a candidate, but that he may have been named ambassador to London and his influence given to Coolidge. Senator Johnson did not contest Illinois in 1920. Courtesy to another candidate kept him out of Lowden's home State. But the forecast that a present contest would give the State to Johnson will be unpleasant news for anti-Johnson folks in California.

The article in the Tribune was accompanied by a first-page McCormick cartoon depicting Hiram in the act of depositing his hat in the ring beside the Coolidge champion, as he strains his ear to hear what Mr. Coolidge is saying about the world court, while the O. P. elephant looks on from a distance, noticeably interested. It is rumored that if he is a candidate, Senator Johnson will have the active support of Senator McCormick of Illinois. Tribune news and policy seem to sustain the rumor.

Fragrance

By Berton Braley
There's a pleasant smell to roses
And to various other posies,
And I like the smell of spices
oriental;

And the tresses of a maiden
With a subtle perfume laden
Have a scent that always makes me sentimental;

But I'm frank enough to whisper
That when days are growing crisper
And I'm glad to add a vest to my adorning,

Then the smell which greatly thrills me
And the zest and gusto fills me
Is the smell of eggs and bacon in the morning.

When my body I have lavien (Bathed, in other words)—and shaven,
I still suffer, oftentimes, from semi-coma;

For it takes me long to waken,
But the eggs and sizzling bacon
Have a tonic and a kick in their aroma,
So, though percolated Java
May, and certainly DOES have a Joyous fragrance which I'm very far from scorning.

Yet all the scents I've scented
Quite the noblest one I've scented
Is the smell of eggs and bacon in
the morning!

JOHNNIE of the CIRCUS

and his CUFFY BEAR ~

~ By ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

"I bow," said the proud horse.

"Like this!"

A HIGH SCHOOL PUPIL.

During his summer with the circus Cuffy Bear had spoken at least a dozen different times to a certain handsome bay horse. But that fashionable chap had made not the slightest sign that he heard. It was not until Cuffy at last explained that he was a guest of the circus, and that he was a sort of relative of Mr. Jim Brown, the owner, that the bay gentleman turned his head about and looked at him.

"Why in the world didn't you say so before?" cried the bay. "I supposed, of course, that you were just an ordinary performer. And you know I don't associate with ordinary performers."

"What's the matter with them?" Cuffy asked him.

"They're simply not in my class," said the bay. "Maybe you didn't know that I'm an educated horse."

"You are?" Cuffy exclaimed.

The bay nodded his head. "I'm a high school horse," he announced proudly.

Cuffy Bear didn't even know what that was!

"My master, Johnnie Green, goes to the little red school house when he's at home," he remarked.

"Ah! But he doesn't study the things that I have learned," said the bay horse loftily. "I know the goose-step."

"We have a lot of geese back on the farm," said Cuffy Bear eagerly. The bay horse paid no attention to what he said.

"I know how to make a low bow," the proud horse continued.

"Like this?" asked Cuffy, jerking his head.

"Not at all!" said the bay horse. "It's not done like that at all. It's done like this." And he lowered his head almost to the ground, scraping his foot along the turf at the same time. "It's a bit more difficult to do when you're tied," he explained.

"If I were in the ring, insted of being tied here in the horse tent, I could show you a much more elegant bow than that."

Cuffy Bear was so impressed that he could only open his mouth and stare at the bay horse in wonder.

"I can walk on my hind legs," the bay went on.

"So can I!" cried Cuffy.

A look of annoyance crossed the face of the bay horse.

"Maybe you can," he sniffed.

"But I'm saving the best and biggest news until the last. There's something more I can do. And there isn't anybody else in this show that can do it."

"What is that?" Cuffy asked him.

"I know how to waltz!" the bay horse announced with an air of immense pride.

"Does it hurt?" Cuffy inquired.

"Hurt?" exclaimed the bay. "Of course not! Ha! Ha! What a queer question!"
